Hello... and farewell!

Hail me a black cab and play the tinkly version of the EastEnders theme, because after 21 years of writing about big soap exits, I'm finally having one of my own!

This is my last-ever issue as editor of Inside Soap. However, as the old cliche goes, no one is bigger than the show, and the fantastic team here will continue to bring you top soap gossip every week, so please don't panic!

I have a million 'thank yous', of course – to the wonderful staff on the magazine over the years, as well as actors and

"I used to buy Inside Soap religiously..."

behind-the-scenes people who always go above and beyond for Inside Soap. But my biggest thank you is to you, the Inside Soap readers. People often ask me what's the best thing about my job. Is it getting to write for a living? Meeting the actors? Trips to soap sets or showbiz parties? I always give the same answer: it's knowing that my work creates something that people really look forward to each week.

I'll tell you a secret... I used to buy Inside Soap religiously, long before I ever dreamt I could work on it. Basically, I'm the fan that got lucky! To be able to go on to gift someone else that same joy I took from every new issue has been a privilege these past 21 years. I'd like to thank each and every one of you for gifting me that.

David ARRESTED for hit- and-run!

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

HE'S HAULED TO THE COP
SHOP AFTER HIS MISSUS
MOWS DOWN TODD...

Todd ends up in hospital
- but can he remember
how he got injured?

Parking on the Street has led to rows between Todd and the Platts

David and Shona find themselves trapped in a nightmare this week, after Shona innocently jumps behind the wheel of her husband's car – and hits Todd!

Worse still, the cops soon find evidence to link the vehicle with the crime, and Craig collars David in the middle of the Street! But is he prepared to take the blame for his wife's big mistake?

"David is arrested, and Shona feels awful – it's the worst thing ever for her," reveals Julia Goulding, who plays her. "It is all her fault, but she can't say anything. David has dumped the car in a pub car park miles away, and there have been some very heated conversations going on at No 8 – a lot of panic, and a lot of serious plans being made by David..."

"Shona shouldn't be driving with her brain injury..."

The terrible accident comes about as a result of the lack of parking spaces on the cobbles. With David struggling to find a space outside his own house, Shona recently issued some fake parking tickets – which only served to spark a battle between her and neighbour Todd.

"The little rascal keeps parking the hearse outside No 8, and it's winding Shona up!" Julia reminds us. "So when she wakes up at 5am and opens the curtains to see that the hearse has gone from outside, she quickly grabs David's car keys – even though she shouldn't be driving with her brain injury. She legs it out of the house to get to David's car and park it outside the house before anyone else does.

"She's in a hurry and hits something, but isn't sure what," continues the star. "She runs back into the house panicking, and relays it all to David. They go outside to see what she hit, yet can't find anything."

CONTINUED OVER ↴

INSIDE SCOOP

FROM PREVIOUS PAGE

While there's no blood or any evidence to suggest that Shona has inflicted serious harm, there is a huge dent in the side of the car. Thinking quickly, David asks Abi to fix the damage, hoping that'll be the end of the matter.

So imagine the Platts' shock and horror when they hear Todd is in hospital!

"Shona has finally started to calm down, when Sarah comes in and declares that Todd has been involved in a hit-and-run!" exclaims Julia. "It's the last thing Shona wants to hear, as this means she could be going to jail. She has broken the law; she has hit someone and left the scene of a crime."

"Abi has seen the dent in the vehicle, and is obviously going to put two and two together," she adds. "Shona and David need to get rid of the car, but Abi knowing is a problem."

LONG ARM OF THE LAW

Realising that Todd is the key to them getting away with their crime, David tells Shona that he's heading to the hospital to find out what their victim remembers...

"They need to know if Todd is going to tell the police," confirms Julia. "He has told Eileen that he can't remember anything, so it's looking hopeful. But while Shona is panicked about what could happen to her for breaking the law, David is more worried that they won't get away with it, as Todd's involved!"

However, things get a whole lot worse for the couple, when Craig calls round to tell them that he's found their car dumped miles away – and it has a huge dent in it! And later, both Shona and Sarah are shocked to witness Craig arresting David on suspicion of failing to stop and report a road traffic accident...

There's another twist to come, though, as Craig later reveals that new evidence has come to light, and David is free to go! So is this really the end of the matter? Or might the Platts face a different kind of justice if Todd gets wind of what they've done?

"David knows of Todd's form far more than Shona does, as she doesn't remember," points out Julia. "But she knows he's a wrong'un. She knows all about the Paul and Billy stuff, so she is aware that he's a bad egg. And she's completely aware of the problems Todd could cause if he ever found out..."

Sarah Ellis

The new Shona!

Julia's loving being naughtier now on screen...

This week's hit-and-run horror is just the latest in a long line of mistakes that Shona has made since suffering her brain injury. But Julia tells us that she's been thoroughly enjoying getting to know this new side to her character...

"It has been really interesting," she grins. "We are starting to see glimpses of the old Shona; although the new Shona is here to stay. As an actor, I feel very comfortable about where she is since her brain injury.

I'm bringing back the essence of Shona that never left, but having the freedom for her to be more outspoken, which is really fun to play.

"She does have the ability to be sensitive with people, such as Nina when she was going through hell," adds Julia. "However, when it comes to giving her opinion there is no holding back; Shona is like a battleaxe in a 36-year-old's body, but with an innocence, as she doesn't say any of it in a calculating way. She doesn't have the ability to be devious, which is why it is interesting to see her and Todd spar. He is the epitome of devious and she is the opposite, yet they give each other as good as they get!"

Broken Liv's desperate seduction!

SHE SHOCKS JACOB – AND FINALLY PUSHES AARON TOO FAR...

Following a crushing rejection from Vinny, drunk Liv tries to entice Jacob into bed this week – however, her desperate plan goes terribly wrong...

Jacob's horrified when he finds himself alone with Liv, and she proceeds to undress in front of him. The situation is complicated further once furious Aaron walks in on the scene. Is Liv's behaviour the final nail in the coffin for her relationship with her brother?

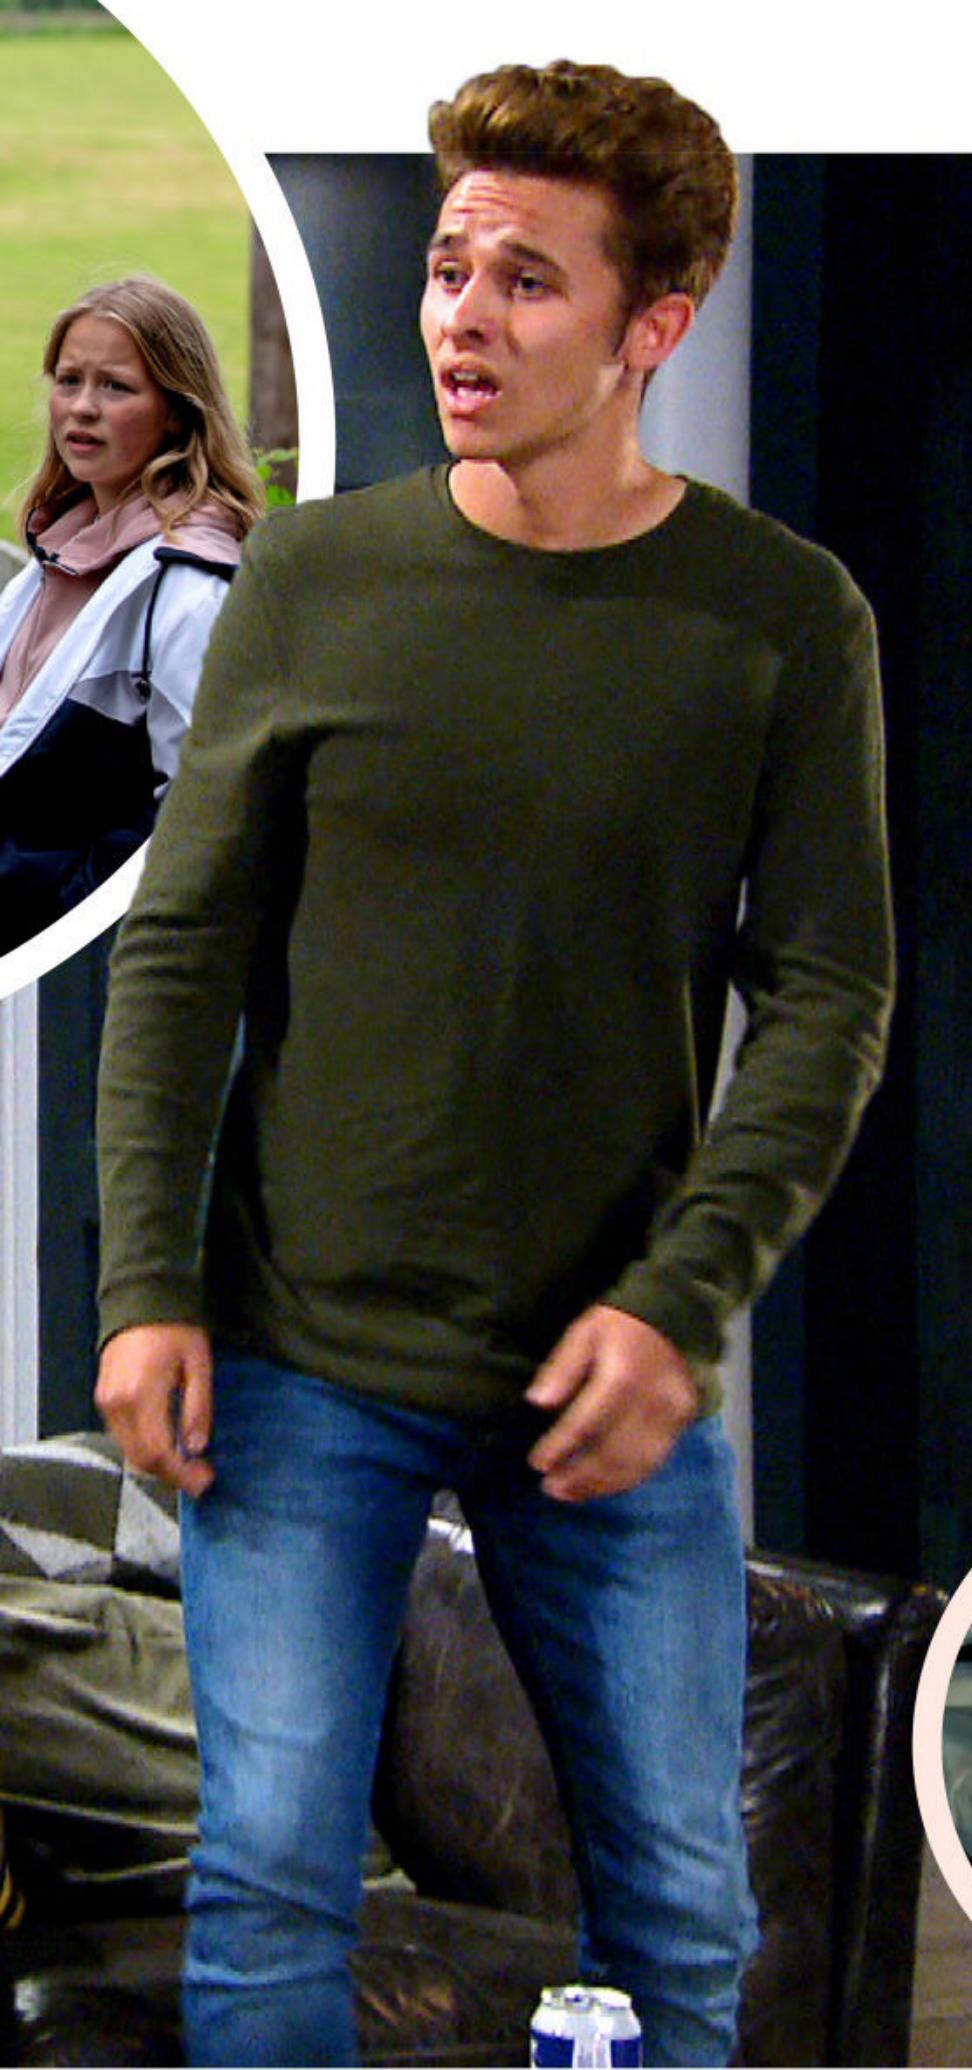

"It's really awkward and uncomfortable," shares Isobel Steele, who plays Liv. "Jacob is trying to remove himself from the situation, as it could have backfired on him if Aaron hadn't walked in. Jacob needs to ensure Liv is okay, while also protecting himself."

Fortunately for Jacob, Aaron knows that he's just the latest person to get dragged into Liv's spiral of destruction. Like Vinny, he only wants the best for Liv, who is busy telling everyone at the beginning of the week that she can stop drinking whenever she wants.

Mandy's unhappy with Vinny trying to help Liv, so steals his phone and lies to Liv that he's blocked her number and is now taking Belle out on a date – leaving Liv devastated.

"It seems a huge betrayal, as Belle and Liv have a good relationship and are friends, as well as family," explains Isobel. "She tries to remain cool, but her mask slips, and Liv tells Vinny how she feels. It's confusing for him, as Mandy's told him different things."

“It's hard to know where rock bottom is for Liv – I thought she was already there!”

Vinny's annoyed about his mum's meddling, but he's also clear with Liv that there is no hope for them as a couple. Realising he means it, Liv hits the bottle again.

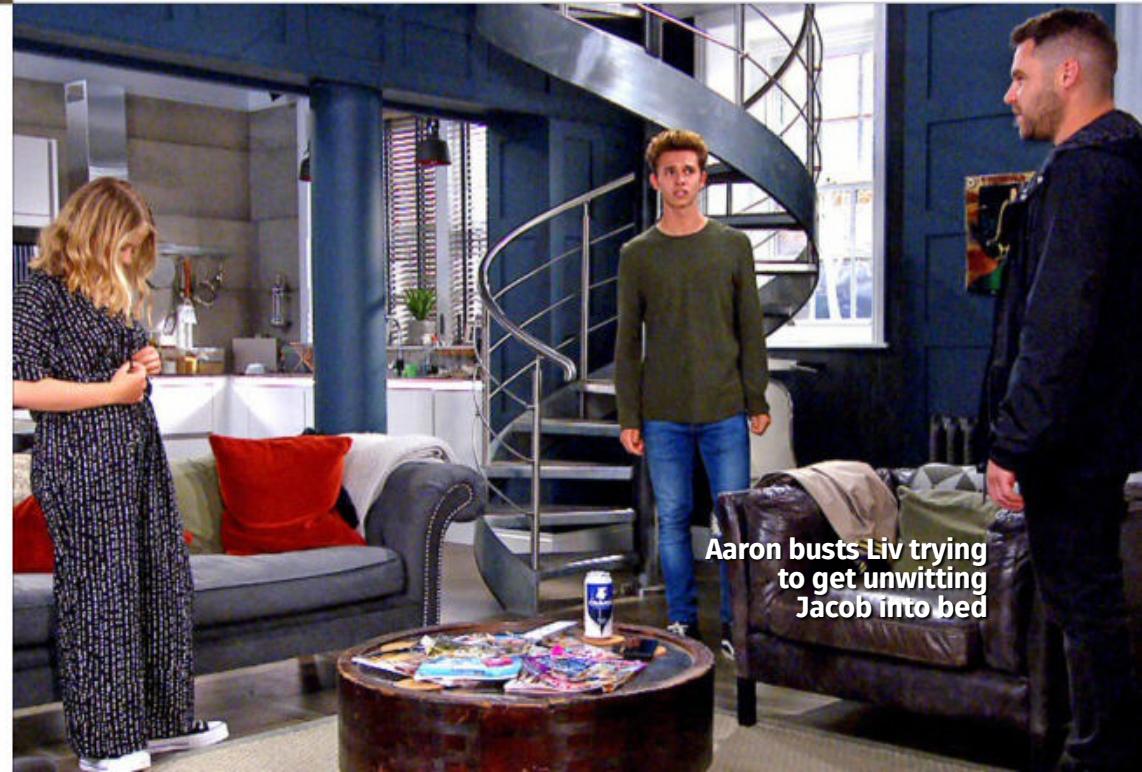

"Liv had this romantic idea that they'd get back together," shares Isobel. "That hope was pushing her to stop drinking. Without it, she spirals."

Aaron's at his wits' end when he gets home to find Liv trying to lure Jacob upstairs. The siblings have a furious row, and Aaron kicks Liv out. Has Liv hit rock bottom?

"It's hard to know where rock bottom is for her – there have been times where I thought she was there already, and then it gets worse," admits Isobel. "She needs to come to her senses. Aaron is the one person she's always needed, and mending that relationship has to be her top priority. This is the worst it's ever been between them."

Kate White

Aaron busts Liv trying to get unwitting Jacob into bed

While Liv's life might be in the doldrums, star Isobel is flying high and working on releasing some new music in early 2022.

The talented singer blew fans away during lockdown by performing hits for Emmerdale's 'Woolpack Sessions'. Like co-star Bradley Johnson (Vinny), Isobel has a deep love for music, and intends to launch a parallel career.

"I'm hopefully releasing some new music, and then doing a tiny tour of three or four tour dates afterwards," enthuses Isobel. "I'll be performing in Leeds a couple of times, and then Manchester and London. It's nice to be able to do both acting and music. It's a lot of fun."

Now Liv and Vinny have split up, Isobel isn't working as closely with good pal Bradley. So, she's hoping there is a way back for the young couple.

"I'd like to see them back together because I love working with Brad," she tells us. "However, whether it would work is a different story. I'm rooting for them!"

EASTENDERS | BBC1 FRIDAY

Chelsea wants out!

SHE'S DONE WITH GRAY – BUT WILL HE LET HER GO?

Will Whitney find herself back in Gray's dangerous world?

Chelsea's fling with Gray comes under fire this week, after scheming Karen plots to reunite her son-in-law with Whitney – so that he'll get shot of Chelsea!

But while Karen wants Gray to dump Chelsea, it's fair to say that Gray's high-maintenance girlfriend is growing tired of their domestic set-up anyway – especially after she receives attention from a handsome stranger. Is Chelsea finally beginning to realise that being shackled to Gray isn't all it's cracked up to be?

"Chelsea's managed to wrap Gray around her little finger, yet there's only so much running around after his kids that a woman of her selfishness can stand," reckons our Walford insider. "She'll happily spend Gray's cash and lap up the perks of dating a hot solicitor – but Chelsea bores easily, and it's not long before she's eyeing up the next unsuspecting fella. Although, if Karen has her way, Chelsea could be out the door sooner than she thinks!"

Karen's not impressed with the way Chelsea treats her grandchildren, Mack and Mia, especially after hearing the nickname that Gray's girlfriend has for his kids! So, after their former babysitter Whitney happens to mention that things are still awkward between her and Gray, matchmaker Karen arranges for the pair to be in the same place at the same time, so that they'll get talking.

Her plan works, as Gray tells Whitney that she is welcome to drop by to see the kids anytime. Meanwhile, Karen concocts a scheme to keep Chelsea out of the way...

"Karen's playing with fire meddling in Gray's business, but she's doing what she thinks is best for Mack and Mia," says our spy. "These days he seems to be putting more effort into Chelsea than he is with them."

“Karen's doing what she thinks is best for Mack and Mia...”

Karen's fears strengthen after she and Mitch help with Mia's birthday party, only to realise Gray has forgotten to send the invitations. And as Karen gives him grief, the volatile lawyer struggles to accept the truth...

Meanwhile, Chelsea's thrilled once she wins her court hearing to have her electronic tag removed. After swerving Mia's party, she ends up in Ruby's club and catches the eye of a mystery man who buys her a drink. Now she's free to live her life without a curfew, will Chelsea decide she wants to be free to date other men, too?

It seems that way as Dotty quizzes Chelsea on her relationship with Gray, and she insists it's casual. And when Sharon later chances upon Chelsea in the Vic, clearly ignoring Gray's messages, she advises Denise's daughter to end things if she's not happy.

With that, Chelsea decides to finish with Gray, and prepares to return his house keys. But given how possessive he can be, is Gray ready let Chelsea go?

Laura-Jayne Tyler

Karen's not pleased with the lack of attention Gray's giving his kids

THE KIDS ARE ALL RIGHT!

Walford's young stars bring joy to the set...

While Karen worries that Gray's selfish girlfriend doesn't have a maternal bone in her body when it comes to his kids, in reality Zaraah Abrahams – who plays Chelsea – is in awe of the young stars who play Mack and Mia...

"They are absolute pros," grins the actress, who has a four-year-old son in real life. "It's lovely to have their fun energy on set. When the director yells, 'Cut!', they're either talking to us, or they have a game to play. It's lovely working with them."

Misbah's secret child

BUT WILL SHE TELL HER SON SHAQ THE TRUTH?

Misbah makes the shocking confession to Marnie that Shaq is her biological son this week – but will she tell him the truth?

Shaq has been suspicious of his parentage for some time, incorrectly suspecting that he and Sami may share a dad. But little does he realise the truth is even more shocking...

"Misbah has been clinging on to this secret for a very long time," begins Harvey Virdi who plays her. "And really she just needs to blurt it out and hope someone understands. Since she and Marnie have built up a friendship, Misbah reveals the truth – that she had a baby, and her sister ended up raising him..."

As Marnie digests the stunning revelation, Misbah continues to explain, admitting that Shaq's dad isn't Misbah's late husband, Kashif!

"Misbah met Shaq's father at university," teases Harvey. "He was an older guy doing a PhD, and she thought he was lovely. A very charming man, very bright, charismatic, and Misbah completely fell for him. That's how she met him, as a first-year medical student – however, I can't give too much away..."

While Misbah feels relieved to have unburdened herself, she is unsure what to do next – however, her hand is forced once Sami confronts her with the knowledge that Shaq isn't his brother.

"Misbah pleads with Sami to keep hold of the secret for her," shares Harvey. "She attempts to convince him that it would be better for everyone if no one else found out. Sami tries to understand where she's coming from – but he doesn't really."

Sami ends up persuading Misbah that it's best to come clean and to tell Shaq, Imran and Yazz everything. Initially, Misbah agrees, but then a conversation with Scott changes her mind.

"Scott – who was adopted – tells Misbah about his relationship with his mum,"

Misbah had a baby, and her sister ended up raising him..."

says Harvey. "And then Scott tells her about his depression and his suicide attempt. It just puts fear into her, she worries that telling Shaq might mean the same for him – Misbah doesn't want to put him in that position. If Shaq doesn't know the truth, then it won't hurt him, but we all know that if he finds out further along the line, it'll be much worse."

Will Misbah ever admit the truth to Shaq? Or will someone else get to him first?

Alice Penwill

Sami discovers the truth, and urges his stepmum to tell Shaq

MAALIK MADNESS...

Shaq has a secret of his own – he has a crush on Sami's girlfriend, Verity!

Ever since Shaq arrived in the village, it's been clear that he has a soft spot for his cousin's girlfriend. But this week even Verity realises how Shaq feels, after he helps Sami find her a thoughtful gift. Verity becomes conflicted herself, and seeks advice from Celeste. However, who does she prefer: Sami, or Shaq?

"Misbah has an inkling that Shaq likes Verity – she's spotted his little puppy dog look!" laughs Harvey. "And Misbah warns him not to go there, she's Sami's girlfriend, it's not the right thing to do. It's a conversation Misbah would have with any of her children, so she does try to make him see that to ignore it is the right thing to do. I mean, if Shaq acts on this crush, it will be devastating for the whole family. Then on top of that, if he finds out Misbah is his mother, it will have a huge ripple effect..."

BACK WITH A BANG!

Janine turns up the heat for her big return...

Sneak PREVIEW!

There's no smoke without fire – and it looks as if Walford superbitch Janine is going to arrive home in a blaze of drama this autumn!

Inside Soap previously reported that smoke had been spotted billowing from the EastEnders set during a series of night shoots recently, as the cast and crew filmed a big disaster involving the emergency services. And now, actress Charlie Brooks – who is due to reprise her role as the soap's legendary bad girl – has been snapped filming scenes while covered in soot and ash. A coincidence, perhaps?

"Not likely!" scoffs our Walford insider. "Wherever there is trouble, Janine is never far behind!"

Rumour has it that Kat's son, Tommy – who is the half-brother of Janine's daughter, Scarlett – will be caught up in the terror with his sister. But who lights the match that kicks off the Square's big drama?

"The potential for Janine is huge," whispers our mole. "She has enemies all around the Square who she'd gladly go to war with, and she's shown in the past that she isn't afraid to kill to get in her way. She's not going to come back and play nice!"

While the heat turns up on screen, actress Charlie played it cool as she stopped for a bite to eat in between filming. Meanwhile, fire engines and stunt artists were drafted in for the hazardous scenes, which we expect to hit our screens next month. We can't wait!

Will Kat be caught up in more fire tragedy?

DIETER BRUMMER 1976-2021

InsideSoap
pays tribute to the actor best known as Shane in
Home and Away, who passed away
last month...

While Jason Donovan was the Aussie soap golden boy of the 80s, Home and Away star Dieter Brummer snatched that crown as the 90s arrived. The actor joined the show aged 15 as Shane Parrish, and propelled it to a height where it finally eclipsed arch-rival Neighbours.

Home and Away was Dieter's first major acting role when he joined in 1992, while still studying drama at high school. Shane's romance and later wedding to Angel Brooks drew in huge audiences, but off screen Dieter admits he became eventually bored of the role – preferring his character as the bad boy of the early episodes, rather than the romantic lead.

Shane and Angel were the Scott and Charlene for a new generation of teens

Dieter also admitted that his chemistry with cast mate Melissa George (Angel) was "far from real". But none of this held back his success, with the star being crowned Most Popular Actor at Australia's Logie TV Awards for two years running in 1995 and 1996. Dieter admitted he found this fame that went along with his role "quite bizarre" – and he left Home and Away in 1996, with his alter ego Shane dying of blood poisoning on the first anniversary of his wedding.

After Summer Bay, Dieter continued to act, but took a break in the early 2000s and formed his own high-rise window-cleaning business. A decade later, more TV success came Dieter's way, with a part on Neighbours, as well as a well-received role in two seasons of Aussie gangster show Underbelly.

As the news broke that the actor was found dead at his home in Sydney, his friends paid tribute...

"I can't believe this tragic news," shared Home and Away's Emily Symons (aka Marilyn). "Dieter was such a lovely, kind, genuine person. I always enjoyed working with him. I will never forget his beautiful smile."

Dieter's family also said: "We lost our handsome, talented, funny, complicated and beloved Dieter on Saturday morning. He's left a massive hole in our lives, and our world will never be the same. Our thoughts go out to all of you who knew him, loved him, or worked with him over the years."

Ty's in a pickle - and it's time for him to fess up to Alina

Fiz is ARRESTED!

SHE TAKES THE FALL FOR HOPE'S CRIME...

CORONATION STREET | ITV FRIDAY

Alina learns the awful truth about who started the fire at her flat the week – but will she betray Tyrone and turn Hope over to the police?

After rumbling Tyrone's lies, Alina figures out that the perpetrator of the arson is close to home. So, she makes a life-changing decision which ends with Fiz being escorted into a police car. But later on, Tyrone makes a confession: Hope started the fire!

"It's tough for Tyrone to tell Alina everything," explains our Corrie spy. "He's had to choose between protecting his child's secret and telling the truth to his girlfriend. But in the end, Ty feels Alina has to know what happened, considering she lost their unborn child. Unsurprisingly, Alina is lost for words."

Prior to Tyrone's revelation, Alina turns sleuth to find the culprit. Her first thought is that Fiz was the firestarter. But when Tyrone tells Alina that he found the missing flat keys in his own jacket pocket, Alina lets Fiz off the hook. Next, she concludes that someone from her own dark past has resurfaced...

"Alina came to the Street as a victim of human trafficking," our source reminds us. "So it's only natural that her thoughts should turn to the group of criminals she helped to bring to justice. Alina goes to Craig to explain that someone from the gang might have returned and set fire to the flat out of revenge."

While Alina is fearing for her life, Ty announces that he and his other half are moving back into No 9. But Evelyn is disapproving of her grandson's decision, believing they're now putting Ruby in danger. Meanwhile, Alina spots her ex-boss Rachel lurking around the Street, and confronts her about starting the fire – but Rachel insists it wasn't her. Alina is baffled, but she soon realises that Ty has been lying to her...

"Alina hears from Chesney that Cilla is on holiday – so there's no way Fiz and Hope are staying with her, as Ty has claimed," reveals our sneak. "And to make matters more puzzling, Alina spots

Evelyn and Tyrone letting Fiz and Hope into the house. So when Alina realises Tyrone's been deceiving her, she grows sure that Fiz started the blaze!"

As Fiz is arrested, Alina tells Tyrone she called the police after finding out Fiz was lying about where she was. That's when Tyrone is forced to reveal that it was actually Hope who started the fire! Meanwhile, back at home, Evelyn quizzes Hope, who shows no remorse for her actions whatsoever!

Will Alina turn in Hope before the youngster's behaviour spirals further out of control?

Alice Penwill

Alina fears people from her past are out to get her

DARKNESS RISING

Is Hope's behaviour only set to get worse?

With Fiz keen to protect daughter Hope from the consequences of her own actions, it's Evelyn who turns her beady eye towards the 11-year-old, and is concerned by what she discovers.

Taking a quiet moment to speak to Hope, Evelyn quizzes her about starting the fire, and whether she understands the scale of the tragedy this has brought for Alina. However, the youngster remains stony-hearted, leaving Evelyn deeply troubled about her lack of remorse.

Does the family have a psychopath in their midst? And if so, will anyone ever feel safe again?

Nicola is left with lots to think about after the shock news

Juliette's bombshell!

JIMMY GOES HOME TO NICOLA AFTER CARL'S MUM TURNS HIS LIFE UPSIDE DOWN AGAIN...

Jimmy and Nicola are catapulted back together this week, after Juliette deals the Kings an almighty blow!

Following months of insisting that she wants joint custody of Carl, the little boy's birth mother does the unthinkable and makes a shocking announcement. And what Juliette has to say is so out-of-the-blue that Jimmy is left with no choice but to move back into the family home, for Carl's sake...

"When you think that Juliette's reappearance tested Jimmy and Nicola's marriage in the lead-up to it finally breaking down, the news that she has for them is frankly unforgiveable," splutters our Dales insider. "The impact that it stands to have on Carl is huge, and the Kings must rally immediately in the name of damage limitation."

Prior to Juliette's bombshell, Jimmy packed his bags and left Victoria Cottage after he and Nicola finally conceded that their marriage was over. Between the differences they had over Juliette, and Jimmy's lorry crash, the Kings realised that they could take no more. Though, it was his kiss with Mandy that proved to be the final straw for Nicola.

Anyway, as the pair are having a discussion in the café this week, Juliette appears in the doorway looking sheepish. Nicola and Jimmy are utterly flabbergasted by what she has to say, and thoughts of their separation are swiftly put on

Nicola wants Jimmy home for the sake of their kids

The news Juliette has for the Kings is frankly unforgivable...

Better TOGETHER!

Nicola Wheeler (Nicola) says it's not over for the Kings...

It's going to take a hell of lot of grovelling from Jimmy for Nicola to just erase his kiss with Mandy. However, actress Nicola Wheeler, who plays her, reckons that her alter ego ought to give him the chance...

"I think there is scope for Nicola and Jimmy to get back together, as Jimmy was in a very difficult place at the time when he snogged Mandy," reckons the star. "Sometimes life throws you a curveball, and maybe it's not just about Jimmy and Nicola any more. It's about the children, and what's best for them..."

Juliette has caused nothing but trouble for the Kings – and she seems set to cause more ice as they work out how they will break the news to Carl.

"After weeks of getting to know Juliette as his 'other mummy', it's a lot for the lad to take in," sighs our mole. "Jimmy and Nicola hope that they have done enough to reassure him that things will be okay – but Juliette's announcement stands to have serious emotional repercussions for him."

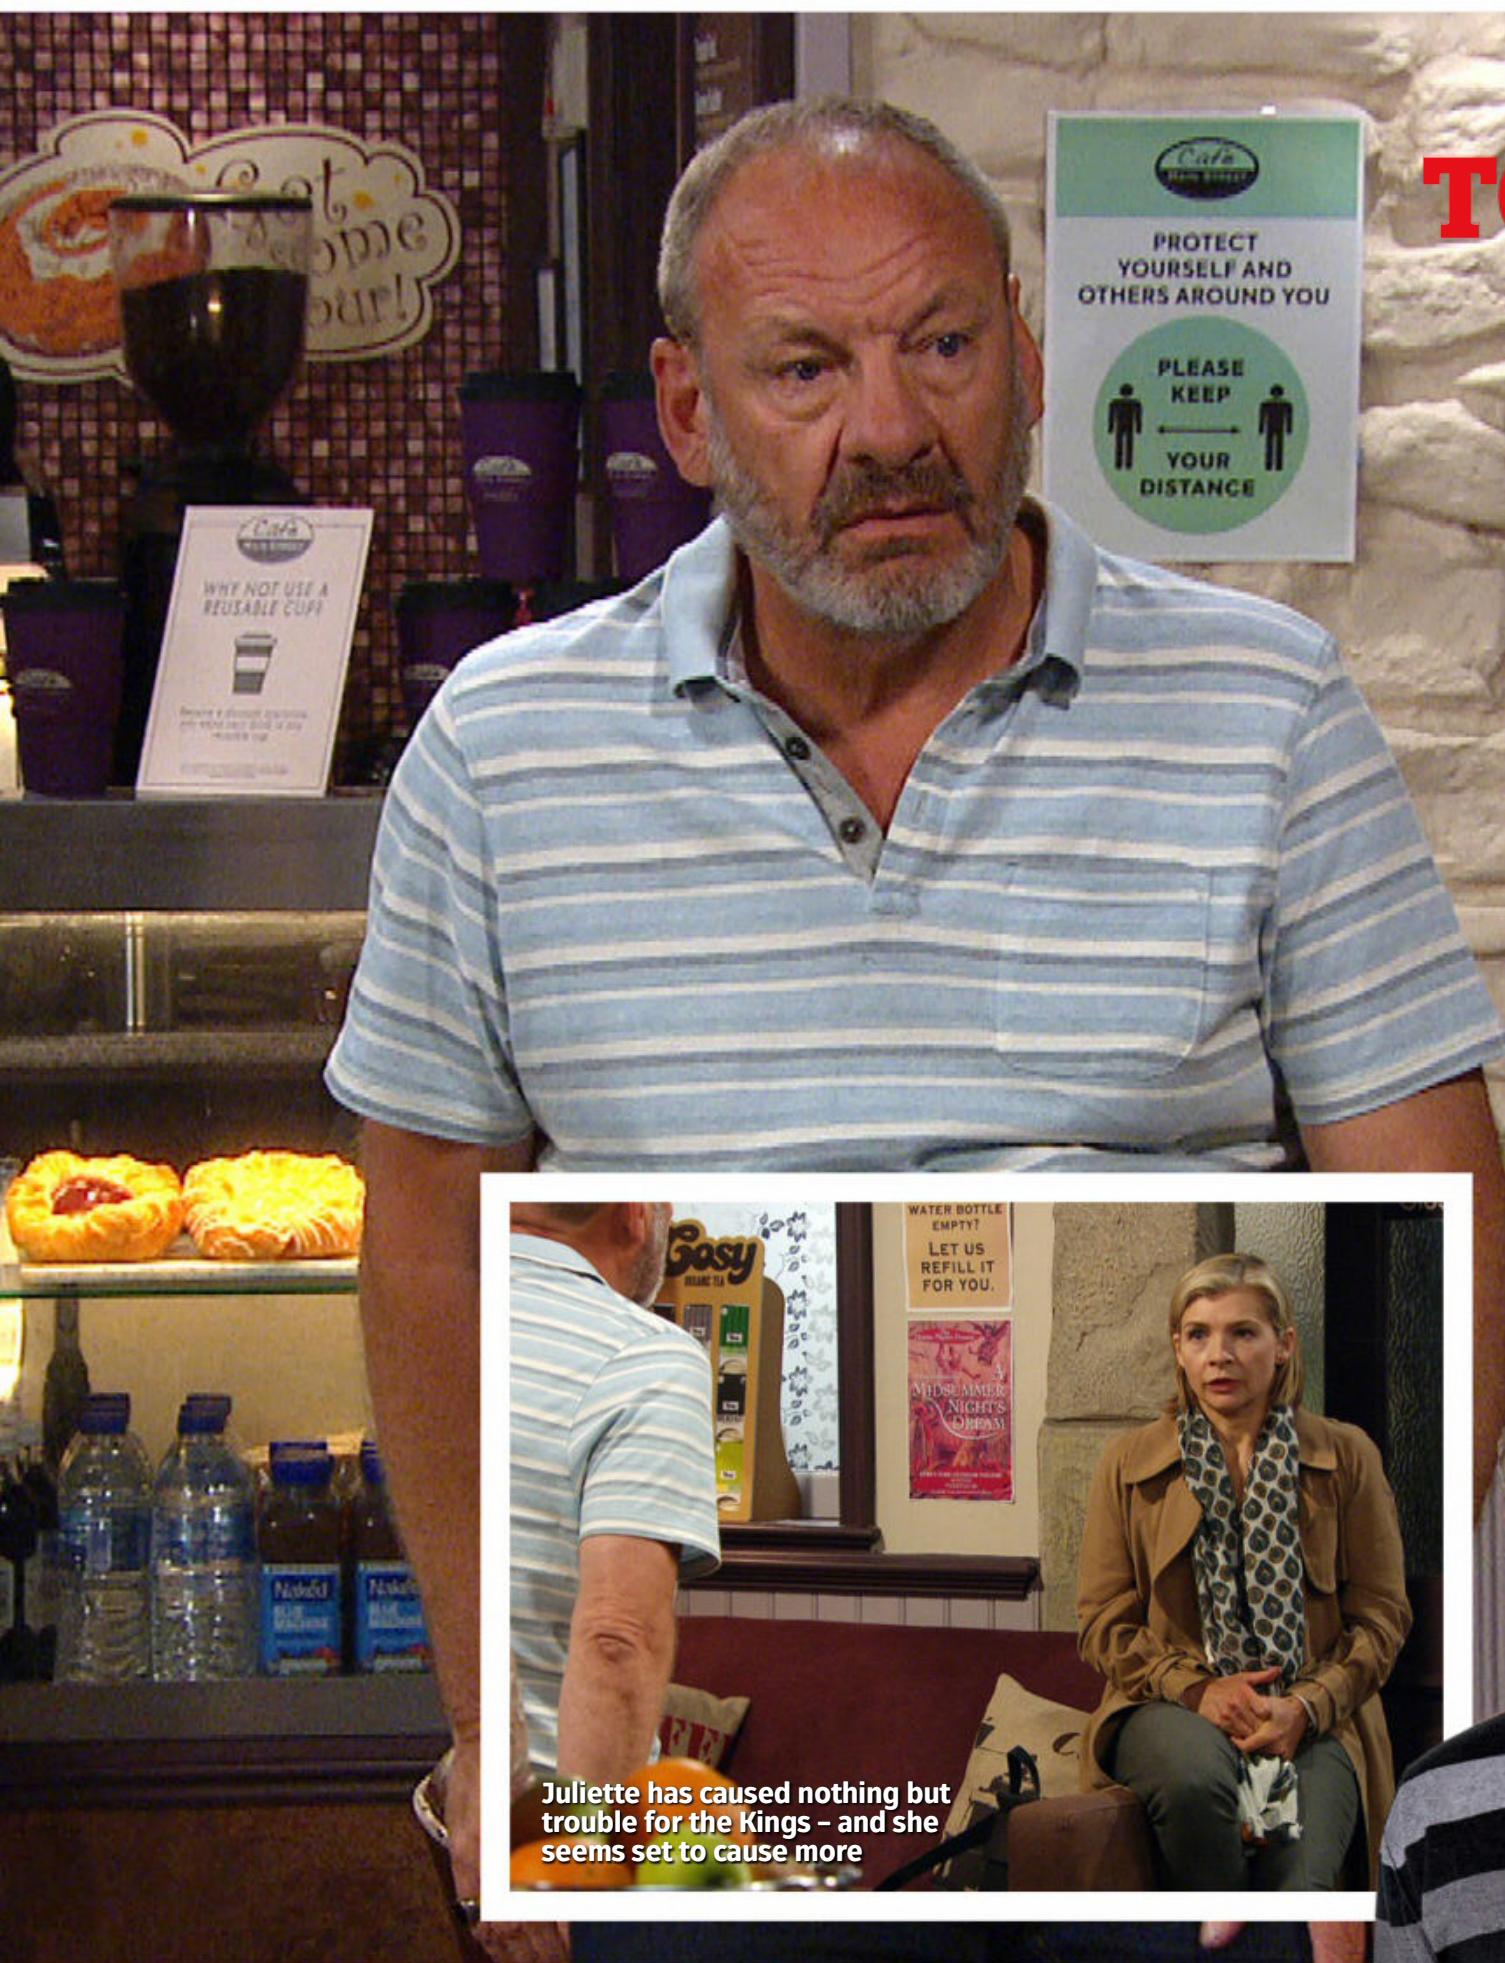

Coupled with Jimmy having just moved out, Carl doesn't deal with the news well. It doesn't take a genius to realise that he is struggling with all the upheaval, and Nicola tells Jimmy that he'll have to come home, for Carl's sake.

Meanwhile, Jimmy is hopeful that his return could lead to a reprieve for his marriage. After all, the Kings were a gnat's whisker away from agreeing to give things another go before Jimmy fessed up about his sneaky snog with Mandy.

So, will having Jimmy back under the same roof make Nicola realise that what she and her husband had is too good to throw away? Or will Jimmy's homecoming be short-lived if his presence only serves to remind Nicola why she decided to boot him out in the first place?

Jean demands the truth behind Ruby's generous gift

EASTENDERS | BBC1 WEDNESDAY

Ruby's shock revelation!

WILL JEAN BE HORRIFIED?

Jean wonders if Ruby is keeping something from her...

Ruby makes a stunning confession to Jean this week – and it threatens to shatter their new-found bond forever...

Kindly Jean offers to accompany Ruby to her hospital appointment, and Ruby's pleased to have such a good friend by her side. But soon, the guilt becomes too much for her – and she reveals something to Jean that she's been holding on to for a long time! Of course, we know Ruby lied to get Stacey sent to prison, so is she about to confess?

"Jean has always known something doesn't add up about that happened," reveals Gillian Wright, who plays her.

"She was never comfortable with Ruby's truth. Also, when Stacey said she didn't do it, Jean believed her straight away. She knows when Stacey is lying. She doesn't know what the real truth is, but she knows that Stacey is in prison and Ruby isn't..."

Prior to her confession, Ruby attempts to make amends by helping Jean out and transferring a large sum of money into her bank account. However, Jean gets a real shock once she sees the amount of money she's been given, before quickly deducing that the cash must be from Ruby.

Later, when Jean pulls out a wad of £50 notes in the Minute Mart, Shirley's stunned – and as Jean explains where she got the dosh, Shirley reckons it's blood money!

"That's a very uncomfortable thing, to have a lot of money thrown at you," says Gillian. "It's complicated because Ruby is feeling guilty, so it's patronising. It is unwarranted, and as far as Jean is concerned it's dirty money."

Wanting to get to the bottom of what's going on,

Jean has always known that something doesn't add up...

“Jean is becoming a bigger and stronger person...”

GILLIAN WRIGHT ON HER ALTER EGO'S NEW FRIENDSHIP...

Hi, Gillian! We've really enjoyed Jean looking after Ruby – but how do you think she'll react if Ruby does confess what she did? Could Jean forgive her?

That is a big question! Probably not... But the story unfolds in an unusual way, and what's nice about it is that Jean doesn't behave in a way in which the audience would expect. I love what goes on between her and Ruby because Jean has to be a bigger person. She has a choice to help or not, and she chooses to help. Jean is becoming a bigger and stronger person, although deep down she can't forgive Ruby.

How is Jean coping with Stacey being in prison?

She's coping remarkably well for someone with a history of mental health issues. Her grandchildren help her. Jean was heartbroken when the kids went to live with Ruby and Martin, and left her, as she made a promise to Stacey that she was going to look after the children. Jean has also been living on her own for quite some time – Mo's gone, Stacey's in prison, while Kat and her kids are at Phil's a lot...

Do you think the fact that Jean is preparing for the end of her life plays into her relationship with Ruby?

Yes, because she told Ruby about it. That scene where she told Ruby about her cancer was very beautiful to film. To have broken into Ruby's house and to sit there with tea on the table, while telling her, was quite something. It was the only thing she thought she could say to Ruby to get her to say something about Stacey. She couldn't put more of her heart on the table.

Jean was very understanding of Isaac when his mental health started to deteriorate, what advice might Jean give to the Truemans while Isaac is on the path to recovery?

Jean knows how difficult it is when someone is in their own world, and their own world is a world of truth. Somebody saying to you that what is going on in your world isn't the truth becomes irrelevant. Jean just wanted to create a little path of communication through to Isaac. If Jean had to speak to the Truemans, she would tell them that professional help is key to his recovery.

Jean offered Isaac support during his mental health crisis

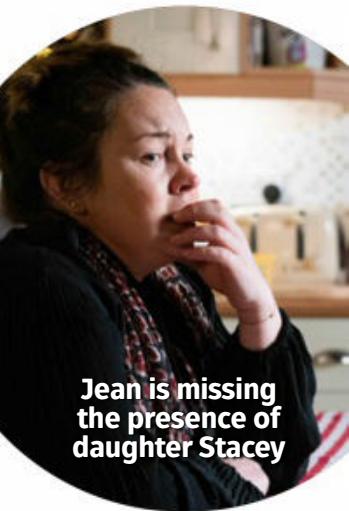

Ruby's secret becomes too much to bear, seeing her tell Jean everything

Jean returns to see Ruby and asks her again about the money. Jean then hands the cash back to Ruby, reluctantly keeping enough to buy a train ticket to visit Sean.

With the financial dilemma sorted out, Ruby can't help but open up about her imminent hospital appointment – and seeing how anxious Ruby is, Jean agrees to accompany her to the clinic. However, as the pair sit in the waiting area, Ruby realises that she needs to unburden herself to truly fix her karma, and proceeds to confess all to Jean. How will Jean react to the revelation?

Nina's dreams shattered!

SOMEBODY TRASHES SEB'S MEMORIAL GARDEN...

Nina finds a bit of happiness this week, when she puts the final touches to a memorial garden she's creating in Seb's memory.

Devastated Nina has been channelling all her energy into cultivating an outdoor space as a tribute to her murdered boyfriend, until disaster strikes. She arrives at the garden to discover that somebody has trashed it and destroyed all the hard work that she and Seb's loved ones have put in. But who would do such a thing?

"Accusations are soon flying, and Nina is convinced that Asha is responsible," reveals our Corrie insider. "She's certain that Asha flew into a rage after they had a disagreement, and lashed out. Nina has been left with no faith in people after what happened to her and Seb, so she's not surprised that her closest friend could turn on her."

However, Asha's adamant that she wasn't responsible for what happened. Things have been awkward between her and Nina, but it's Asha who throws herself into fundraising for the memorial garden. She manages to wangle cash out of dad Dev, Debbie and others for the project. The kind-hearted girl even sells her new laptop to boost the pot, yet her efforts backfire.

Dev's annoyed with Asha for flogging her computer and questions his daughter's motivations for donating such a hefty sum. He's worried she still has feelings for Nina, a suspicion confirmed when the teenager confesses it's true to her stunned ex.

Meanwhile, Seb's grieving mother Abi is struggling with the whole concept of the garden. She's particularly rattled when she sees a huge portrait of Seb that "Are we really going to talk about things moving quickly? You were in Alina's knickers faster than that factory could make 'em!"

Tryone and Fiz are much more fun as jealous rivals than partners!

"So, you drugged Kim's drink, over and over again?"

"You know how controlling she can be!"

"Jamie, this isn't psycho Top Trumps!"
Actually, that's the best description of Emmerdale we've ever heard.

The memorial garden leaves Abi feeling uncomfortable

Nina has painted on the wall, telling friends it feels all wrong.

"Abi is the person who knew Seb the best, and she can't get her head around this garden idea," warns our source. "According to Abi, it's just virtue signalling, as Seb had no interest in potting plants. The painting is the final straw for her. Although she knows that Nina and her pals are trying to do something nice, Abi can't stand looking at this depiction of the son she's lost."

With emotions running high, Nina's already on edge before she arrives at the garden to see it ruined. Jumping to the conclusion that vengeful Asha is to blame, Nina accuses her. But is Asha responsible?

Nicolette proposes!

BUT CHLOE IS HAVING SECOND THOUGHTS...

Chloe discusses her worries with Leo

Heavily pregnant Nicolette pops the question to Chloe this week – but her new fiancée soon ends up in the arms of someone else!

After having multiple freak-outs about her future with Nicolette, Chloe finally begins to settle her nerves. But just as she does, Jane lures her out to the lake where Nicolette is waiting to propose...

"Chloe has no idea what's going on," teases April Rose Pengilly, who plays her. "So she walks into the proposal without realising it. Nicolette has a beautiful set-up with candles, then she gets down on one knee – with some difficulty given that she's pregnant.

Chloe is completely surprised and more than a little freaked out, but she does say yes!"

Nicolette is thrilled when Chloe accepts, and quickly heads off to tell the rest of her family – along with everybody else in the locality!

"Everyone is really happy for them, they're all so supportive and excited," explains April. "Yet privately, Chloe is having doubts. I don't think she's doubting her feelings for Nicolette, she loves her – but it's all coming at her very quickly. Chloe's had a tough year; the divorce, a miscarriage, her mother dying. And Chloe has a terminal illness herself."

Meanwhile, as the proposal plays out, Leo confesses to his dad Paul that he's developed feelings for Chloe. Is he about to put a spanner in the works?

"Chloe has no idea that Leo likes her," reveals April. "And Chloe doesn't see him in that way. Leo's just an old friend to her who's come home – she has no feelings for him, and doesn't suspect that there may be ulterior motives on his part."

Jane plans a surprise engagement party for supposedly happy Chloe and Nic – however, this is the last straw for Chloe, who seeks solace in Leo. The pair are then spotted together by

Leo is only too happy to spend time with Chloe

Aaron and David, who draw the wrong conclusion.

"Chloe is freaking out at the party and needs a little moment to regroup," shares April. "She wants someone to talk to, so Leo comes to lend an ear, and because Chloe's panicking, they hug. That's when the boys enter, and of course it looks like more than it is – it seems a bit dodgy."

With Aaron and David finding Chloe in the arms of Leo, will they tell Nicolette? And will Chloe admit her worries about the future before the wedding?

Whitney's shot at fame!

SHE ENTERS A SINGING COMPETITION...

Whitney has the chance to become a big singing star this week – however, the contest's small print may compromise her chances...

In the café, Whitney meets up with Rocky, who reintroduces her to music promoter Jen. They have a proposal for Whitney – to take part in a singing competition for a chance to win a huge cash prize!

"It took a lot of persuading for Whitney to give singing a go in the first place, despite her talent!" our Walford sneak reminds us. "So it's fair to say that the suggestion a big contest should be one of her first public performances does knock Whitney for six – but only for a moment. Jen and Rocky know that Whitney has the talent for it, and the possibility of winning £10k is too much of a life-changing opportunity for Whit to ignore..."

However, as Jen reads out the details, there is a small catch – but when Rocky declares himself Whitney's new manager, he assures Jen that there's nothing to worry about. So, both Jen and Rocky are delighted as Whitney agrees to the competition, and they forge ahead with their plans for her to enter.

Is there really a chance that Whitney could make it to the big time? Or will the issue Rocky thinks he's solved resurface, and ruin Whitney's odds for good?

Tragedy on Ethan & Fenisha's wedding day!

WILL THE COUPLE GET TO SAY "I DO"?

Ethan's suited and booted – but will there be doom for the groom?

There are shocking and emotional scenes in Casualty this week, as bride Fenisha is involved in a terrible accident on the way to her wedding!

Ethan and Fenisha's guests are gathered in the marquee for their big day, but are left perplexed when neither the bride or groom shows up to the ceremony. So what exactly has happened to them – and will they make it to the point of becoming man and wife?

"This is one of the most dramatic weddings Casualty has ever seen!" teases our Holby Hospital spy. "It's taken Ethan and Fenisha a long time to admit their feelings and get to this point, although everyone can see that they're made for each other. However, their big day ends up getting well and truly derailed."

After Fenisha's cab fails to turn up, her former fiancé Matthew offers to give her a lift to the wedding. Although Fenisha feels awkward, she reluctantly accepts his offer – however, it turns out to be a massive mistake as Matthew stops the car on the way, and dramatically declares that he's still in love with her!

"Fenisha is absolutely mortified at the audacity of him, to be honest!" splutters Olivia D'Lima, who plays her. "Obviously, she is completely devastated that she has to break Matthew's heart again, but when they ended for the second time, she thought he would have got the message that her heart is with Ethan."

Eventually, Matthew is forced to accept that Fenisha just doesn't love him, and the pair continue on their way to the wedding. But then tragedy strikes after their car crashes into the middle of a level crossing, just as a train is about to come through!

Meanwhile, groom Ethan is also running late after going to see a specialist about his Huntington's prognosis. But when he happens upon the accident on the way to the ceremony, will he be forced to try to save his fiancée's life?

Ethan and Fenisha's big day is well and truly derailed...

Fenisha's car journey with ex Matthew goes from awkward to catastrophic

"Several members of the ED staff end up involved in this catastrophic incident," teases our sneak. "Lives are hanging in the balance, and it's all hands on deck as the team steps in to try to save some of their own. It's everyone's worst nightmare come true!"

As word reaches the waiting wedding guests that there's been a terrible accident, they race back to the ED to find out what's going on. But will the casualties in question pull through – or will the team at the hospital be forced to deliver some grim news to the rest of their colleagues?

Sarah Ellis

Matthew appears to escape the terrible accident – will Fenisha be so lucky?

COMING UP...

There's still plenty of Casualty drama in the pipeline!

This episode marks the end of the current series of Casualty – but fear not, you're not going to have to wait long for your next fix...

The new series kicks off next week, with a feature-length episode to mark the drama's 35th anniversary. And if you thought this week's episode was drama-packed, just wait until you see what else is in store!

"We already know that this special episode will see the return of Noel Garcia and Caleb Knight, who of course both sadly died in the ED," our Casualty source reminds us. # Classic SCOOP

The BIG stories from a week of timeless drama...

CLASSIC CORRIE | ITV3 MON-FRI

AUDREY'S LAST NIGHT WITH HER BELOVED ALFIE...

EPISODES FROM DECEMBER 1998

The end of an era...

Prepare to don your black armband for this week's Classic Corrie, as former Weatherfield mayor Alf Roberts slips from this mortal coil, just as 1998 gives way to 1999.

Decent, dependable and a grocer to his core, Alf was, in many ways, a last link to a disappearing world. If there was ever a hat to be seen in the Rovers, you could bet that Alf Roberts was underneath it. With him, we also mourn the passing of a lost era of Coronation Street; a simpler age of largely genteel backstreet bickering. The Battersbys are already here, and the Street's first serial killer is but two years away.

Alf first appeared in 1961, when Corrie was newborn, popping up from time to time before becoming a regular in 1971. Twice widowed – memorably losing second wife Renee Bradshaw in a car crash – Alf was given a new lease of life thanks to a chalk-and-cheese pairing with goodtime girl Audrey Potter. At first, Aud's principal infatuation was with Alf's – albeit one where Alf was driven half-mad by Audrey's scatty, often selfish antics. It's Audrey Roberts who grieves most deeply as Alf slips off – in well-stuffed wallet, but soon their relationship matured into true and enduring love a permanent sort of way – from her grandson Nick's 18th birthday party.

Actor Bryan Mosley, seriously ill himself, was devastated to be axed from the Street, insisting: "I'm feeling better all the time." He sadly died from a heart attack on 9 February 1999, just five weeks after his final appearance on the show.

NEW HORIZONS

As one life reaches its end, two more lives begin, as Judy and Gary Mallett welcome their twins into the world. And it's a new era for the Rovers, as departing Alec hands over the keys to Natalie Barnes, having first been driven to despair trying to turf out his sitting tenants, Jack and Vera. It's Jack we feel most sorry for, as Vera uses their temporary imprisonment as an opportunity to seduce her terrified husband...

RUN, SALLY, RUN!

There's terror of a more visceral kind, as cruel Greg creeps into Rita's house to attack Sally. "It wouldn't have happened in my day," Alf would surely huff.

Keeping MUM!

Here's the good news! Deirdre's acid-tongued mother Blanche comes to stay for Christmas – and decides to make the Street her new home. It's the beginning of Blanche star Maggie Jones' exquisite stint as a regular...

Trouble tripled!

CLASSIC EMMERDALE | ITV3 MON-FRI

Hang out the flags! A new day is dawning in Emmerdale, thanks to the arrival of not one, or two, but three iconic members of the Dingle family – Shadrach, Cain and Charity! They're in the village for the funeral of Butch, which is a more than fair exchange if you ask us. After all, who needs Butch Dingle now we have Paddy Kirk? And our newcomers show their true colours soon enough... Shadrach's too drunk to carry the coffin, Cain punches Chris, and Charity steals Pollard's wallet. This is what we want!

CLASSIC EASTENDERS | Drama MON-FRI

Dishes of the day!

There's a new family in Walford this week, and they are "set to rival the Mitchells" – at least so claimed the producer of the day. Alas, this enthusiasm would prove misplaced, as although there are some charismatic actors among the eight-strong DiMarco clan – notably Louise Jameson as mum Rosa, and Michael Greco as elder son Beppe – they will ultimately fail to set the world alight. Instead of swooning over second son Gianni, most of the time you'll be wondering how long it takes Beppe to draw on his beard with an eyebrow pencil each morning. The clan are old friends of gangster George, and introduced via the funeral of Rosa's husband, Guiseppie – soon to be immortalised in the name of Walford's new Italian restaurant...

WHERE TO WATCH...

CORONATION STREET ITV3 Double bill at 2.50pm weekdays, repeated the following weekday at 6am. Catch up on the ITV Hub.

EASTENDERS Drama Double bill at 1pm weekdays. Catch up on the UKTV Play app.

EMMERDALE ITV3 Double bill at 1.45pm weekdays, repeated the following weekday at 6.55am. Catch up on the ITV Hub.

RANT! RAVE! WE LOVE TO HEAR YOUR OPINIONS!

WHODUNNIT?

I love a murder mystery, but it will be tough to solve who killed Susie McAllister in Home and Away – everyone hated her! It could have been Leah, Irene, Stephen, John, Justin – or any of their family members who are seeking justice too...

✉ | Florence, Surrey

LIFE IN TATTERS

Poor Nancy! It looks as if nothing's going her way in EastEnders. And the sad thing is that when she finds out that it was Frankie who ran her over and Zack who covered it up, it's only going to get worse. I think she was better off on the other side of the world!

✉ | Nick

However, in the wake of a divorce, home is probably the best place for Nancy to be...

A WRONGFUL ARREST...

It's going to be interesting to see how James and Michael Bailey's complaint against the police progresses in Corrie. The decision by the police to pull over and arrest James appears to be entirely racially motivated. I think this storyline will strike a chord with many viewers, and I hope it can be used positively to highlight the issues of discrimination.

✉ | Lesley, Walsall

It's another very important topic for Coronation Street to tackle...

Corrie once again shines a light on societal issues

DANGER AHEAD

With the amount of accidents Nicolette's had since getting pregnant in Neighbours, I can't believe she's still alive! Aaron and David should wrap Nic up in cotton wool, and lock her inside until the baby comes – just to avoid any other disasters.

✉ | Maisie, Manchester

That sounds like a plan! But stubborn Nicolette might not agree with you there...

MOVING ON UP

It was good to see Corrie's Alina asserting herself with Tyrone when he attacked Fiz's new fella. Well done also to Fiz, for dating such a charming man and moving on so quickly after her break-up with Tyrone. Corrie's strong, young women are an inspiration!

✉ | Andrew, Leeds

Fiz certainly isn't going to let Ty hold her back...

Who's queen of the McQueens?

SETTLE THE SCORE

There have been such lovely scenes between Mercedes and Cher in Hollyoaks recently – the sad thing is that the niceness isn't going to last long. Cher will find out about Mercedes' fling with Romeo, and the McQueen family will soon be feuding again.

─ Kalie, Birmingham

It's what the McQueens do best, and we don't like change!

NEW STORIES

Casualty broke new ground with its episode on coercive control.

It was interesting to see the alternative versions of events as well. Jacob's a hugely popular character and a good man, so it's hard to see him going down this road. Actors Charles Venn and Adele James [Jacob and Tina] are playing their parts brilliantly!

─ Ann, Runcorn

This one was a tough watch, though it's a story we're very interested in seeing develop...

SOCIAL TROUBLES

It's breaking my heart to see April in Emmerdale being bullied by online trolls. Having watched her grow up on the show, I almost feel protective over her. I can never understand why people make fake accounts just to bring others down – but whoever's behind it needs to be found out, now!

─ Bella

Social media can be a very difficult place.

ILLUSTRATION: ROB DAVIS

THE FINAL REVEAL!

Todd's crimes were at last exposed in brilliant fashion for all to hear in Weatherfield. And it's safe to say our readers were pleased that Billy could see Todd for who he really is...

I love it when they do big reveals like they did with Todd in Corrie. It reminded me of the classic EastEnders reveal back in 2007, when Tanya discovered Max and Stacey's affair. Todd's face was a picture, and I'm so glad that everyone else can finally see what he's been up to.

─ Danny, Poole

I was hoping the reveal would be a bit more dramatic – the video showed what Todd did, but that was it. And why was Paul so quiet? There wasn't a socially distanced punch-up or anything! I thought it was all a bit mellow in the end. Although I suppose at least Todd was arrested...

─ Juniper

Oh dear, yet more heartbreak for Billy. But what will he do now? Forgive Todd and get married? Or will he go back to Paul? I think Billy's better off on his own – neither bloke is worth his time!

─ Olivia, London

I reckon Billy went too far by comparing Todd to a cult leader, then a serial killer! It's not like he's on the scale of Pat Phelan – calm down!

─ Georgia, Dorset

Meanwhile, some readers were more concerned about the video we missed...

Forget the Todd drama – I'm more interested in the men's nude calendar! Emma was so excited, and the charity deserves all the money it can get. And I wanted to see the behind-the-scenes clips...

Don't fret! It looks as if the calendar will be released...

PINK & PROUD

Martine in Hollyoaks recently wore a larger-than-life silky pink top – where can I find one?

We've tracked down a few similar items – all pink! The first is the 'Tie Back Gigot Sleeve Top' from Shein. There's also the 'Vera Moda Blouse with High Neck and Ruffle Trim in Pink' from ASOS. And check out the 'Balloon Sleeve Organza Top' from Warehouse.

We're always tickled pink by Martine's fashion

ADOPTION HISTORY

I'm confused about Tyrone's backstory in Corrie – especially as I've heard that Fiz's new lover could be his brother! So did Jackie Dobbs adopt him? And how is he related to Evelyn?

Kevin, Staffordshire

Tyrone was adopted by Jackie Dobbs when he was a child. It was only in 2018, when Jackie died, that Tyrone discovered he was adopted. While searching for his birth mother, Cassandra Plummer, Tyrone met Evelyn – his biological grandmother. As for the theory about Fiz's new man Phill being related to Tyrone, this doesn't appear to be true. But in Corrie, you never know what's next...

EXCLUSIVE CRUISE

Sail from the UK to explore the WONDERS OF ICELAND

See Iceland's landscapes on a half-circumnavigation of the 'land of ice and fire' via the Outer Hebrides

Few destinations are more fascinating than Iceland, where ancient ports and fishing villages lie surrounded by spectacular scenery and wildlife. This cruise starts in Liverpool, where your hybrid-powered ship, MS Fridtjof Nansen, will sail to the former Viking settlement of Stornoway, the largest town in Scotland's Western Isles. The colourful town of Seyðisfjörður will be your first stop in Iceland. Set against mountains and waterfalls, its famous Rainbow Road and vibrant buildings are charming. Next, you can enjoy bird-watching on the tiny Icelandic island of Grímsey, high above the Arctic Circle, where puffins steal the show. Your next destination, Akureyri, is Iceland's second city. En route, you'll sail the Eyjafjörður fjord, viewing snow-capped peaks, and have the chance to spot whales. A change of pace comes at the next stop – the peaceful village of Patreksfjörður. Finally, the voyage will end in Reykjavík, just hours away from geysers, glaciers, hot springs and waterfalls.

Reasons to book

ASTONISHING WILDLIFE

From humpback whales to white-beaked dolphins, there's so much to look out for. You will also have the chance to spot seabirds, including black-tailed godwits, puffins, razorbills and, if you're lucky, gyrfalcons, Europe's largest falcon.

SAIL IN STYLE

MS Fridtjof Nansen is the new addition to Hurtigruten's fleet. Its stylish cabins enjoy sea views and its three restaurants give you an enviable choice of dining options.

YOUR EXPERT GUIDES

The expedition team organises fascinating activities. Learn about natural wonders and wildlife during talks in the science centre or master landscape photography with help from the ship's photographer.

OUR TRAVEL PARTNERS TS Tours specialises in creating bespoke journeys in the company of experts. It is acting as agent for Hurtigruten, the world leader in exploration travel.

THE BIG interview

“Ryan’s heart lies with Alya – she keeps him on the straight and narrow!”

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

As Ryan and Daisy make their relationship official, Ryan Prescott tells us that his character is definitely with the wrong woman...

Ryan really needs some more friends!” declares Corrie star Ryan Prescott, as we chat to him about his character’s life being in the doldrums right now. “Maybe that’s just coming from me being stuck in my flat for the past year by myself! But right now Ryan doesn’t have many close ties on the Street, and I think he’s one of those people with whom a lot of personalities would work well. He naturally falls into the sidekick role; he’s happy to be on the sidelines. I’d like for him to form more relationships with people on the cobbles.”

Poor, naive Ryan isn’t really doing himself any favours at the moment, though. Having been duped by wicked Daisy into believing that he cheated on Alya with her, he found himself unceremoniously dumped, and then thrown out of his home!

This week, things get worse after Daisy starts to lose interest when she spots a much better prospect. But as Ryan tells us, his character remains blissfully ignorant to his new girlfriend’s manipulative ways...

How is Ryan feeling about his split from Alya?

He’s devastated. They’d been together two years, and I think he saw them going the long-haul. But he’s not really dealing with it, which is a typical Ryan move. He’s covering his feelings of loss and grief by moving on to something new, and putting a band aid over it.

So would you say that he and Daisy are officially an item now?

Yes, after being slightly baited into “official” status by Daisy! Ryan just goes along with everything to a degree, he’s always been a bit of a hapless chap – he’s a bit ignorant to how it’s all gone down. But he is attracted to Daisy, so he’s trying to get what he can from the situation.

How does he feel when he and Daisy go to Speed Daal, and she brags to Alya about him being her new boyfriend?

Oh, it’s a nightmare! Ryan is frustrated, as it’s really far too soon for him to be moving on. He’s still in love with Alya,

MAIN PHOTO: BACKGRID

Daisy-ed and confused: The cobbles minx has done a number on Ryan

Beat it: Ryan's DJing dreams aren't exactly taking off so the last thing he wants is to rub salt in the wound he's created by cheating. It's a bit of a shameful experience.

Later, Ryan's forced to deliver the news to Daisy that his big DJing gig is actually in the children's tent! How does she take that news?

Those were some of my favourite scenes that have ever been written for me since I've been at Corrie! Daisy was so excited and encouraging about the job, so it's an embarrassment for Ryan. Daisy was always attracted to his ambitions as a DJ, so he's gutted to see how disengaged she immediately becomes.

By the end of the week, Daisy is already lining up her next target in Daniel! How does Ryan feel when he sees them flirting?

He does feel a pang of jealousy, but I think Ryan struggles to see what's really going on. He's convinced that everything's going to be okay between them. So while he's a bit concerned, I don't think he's too wary of Daniel.

Is there any chance of a reunion for Ryan and Alya?

He has that sliver of hope, but he's not holding his breath. He thinks Alya hates him after what he's done! Though while he doesn't see a way back, he's still in love with her, so he can't help but dream that it will happen...

Who do you think Ryan is better suited to – Alya or Daisy?

It has to be Alya – she keeps him on the straight and narrow! As he and Daisy are getting to know each other, they're finding the inevitable potholes, whereas Ryan and Alya had found themselves, together. He wanted to invest in their future. That's where his heart really is.

Is Ryan someone you would be friends with in real life?

I think I would, because he has this half-witted kind of charm. He has a good heart, and that's always something that entices me as far as friendship is concerned. Everything else can be worked out. Plus he likes a party, and I don't mind putting my dancing shoes on once in a while!

Are you anything like Ryan?

In some ways, yes. The more I play him, the more I feel him playing into my everyday life, which is weird! I see that kind of ignorant innocence in myself. I spent my 20s telling myself how much I knew and understood about life, but my 30s are now revealing how little I actually know! Ryan thinks too much, and I definitely do too, so we're similar in those ways.

Who in the Corrie cast are you enjoying working with?

I've mostly been working with Sair [Khan, who plays Alya] and Charlie [Jordan, aka Daisy], and we've had

Things are seeming a bit bleak for Ryan right now – will things start looking up for him soon?

It doesn't look like it, I tell you! He has no family, no home, his DJing is going nowhere, so I don't know if there's any light on the horizon for him. I can say that there's a brief moment between him and a family member that gives him a glimmer of hope – although that's about it!

Sarah Ellis

RYAN'S famous FIVE

The actor spills the beans on his Coronation Street cast mates...

1

"When I first joined Corrie, I was really excited to work with Chris Gascoyne [who plays Peter]. Although he's been on the show for 20 years, he still has drive and stamina, which is impressive to me..."

2

"The green room at Corrie is very funny – the banter is exceptional! Jimmi Harkishin [Dev] makes me roar with laughter. He has the best stories that you would just not believe, and he's a really nice guy too."

3

"I'd love to have more scenes with Mikey North [aka Gary]. We did a bit a while back during the loan shark storylines, and I think there's more to explore in that dynamic. Mikey and I have talked about it off set."

4

"Another actor I'd love more scenes with is Richard Hawley, who plays Johnny. His character has always been there to guide Ryan, but we've not had much opportunity to show that lately. We work really well together."

5

"Which character would I most like to bring back? I have to say Mummy [Kym Marsh, aka Michelle], don't I? I miss her, and also James Burrows [Ali Neeson]. We had a great bond, and just laughed all day long!"

The life of RYAN

EMMERDALE | ITV WEDNESDAY

Ryan might not have grown up around his birth mum Charity and her wayward family, but there's no mistaking the fact that he's a Dingle through and through! And this week he proves it, when he starts spying on his dodgy housemate Mack after Charity accuses him of stealing some smartwatches.

But can Ryan really live up to his family's reputation and outsmart wily Mackenzie? James Moore, who plays him, certainly believes so...

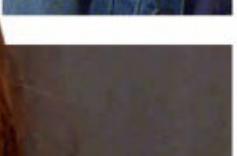

"Like a true Dingle, Ryan likes taking matters into his own hands," chuckles the actor. "And I think he has a feeling that Mack is going to screw him over – so his intention is to be one step ahead.

"They're living together now, so Ryan begins to suspect Mackenzie pretty quickly," continues James. "He seems to be coming home with lots of really expensive stuff, and it doesn't sit well with Ryan. So while Charity

Dream team: Ryan and Mack's qualities make them a perfect match

Suspicious minds: Charity and Mack are baffled by the missing smartwatches seemingly believes Mack's story, Ryan clocks the bag he's hiding, and knows that he's up to no good."

Although Mack denies all knowledge of the stolen smartwatches, Charity smells a rat, and goes searching for them at Tall Trees. Yet she's not the only one who's surprised when she fails to find them, as Mack himself looks shocked that they're not there, too! Might Ryan have had something to do with them going missing?

"There's a part of Ryan that will always get involved in shady stuff, that's the Dingle side coming out," grins James. "So while he knows there's something not right about Mack, he's willing to collaborate if there's a financial incentive! But he can be moralistic, and prepared to set people straight. It could go either way."

"Mack is exposing this personality trait that Ryan had always had in him, but it hasn't really come out until now," he adds. "They make a good team; Mack handles the physical stuff and Ryan handles the techy, logistical stuff. It's a match made in cybercrime heaven!"

It's been nice to watch the bromance between Ryan and Mackenzie growing on screen – even if Mack doesn't always have Ryan's back! And James tells us that he's absolutely delighted to be getting more and more scenes with co-star Lawrence Robb, who plays his Dales partner-in-crime.

"It's a very exciting storyline, the relationship between Mack and Ryan has been really up and down," he agrees. "It was great fun to film, so hopefully it'll be equally fun to watch! Lawrence is a great guy and he's really fun to work with. He has a brilliant range; he can go from comedic and jovial one minute to ominous and threatening the next. He's a real talent."

James has also been enjoying working with more members of the Emmerdale cast, now that his character is living in the village permanently.

"Ryan's sharing a house with Billy and Ellis now, and has found an unreasonably strict landlord in Marlon!" the star reminds us. "Ryan has always been wary of people, but he trusts Billy, and feels confident having him in the house to have his back."

"He's also good friends with Matty, which has been an exciting friendship to develop," adds James. "Especially since me and Ash [Palmisciano, who plays Matty] are really good friends in real life, so he's a joy to work with."

And just like many other Emmerdale cast members, James admits that there's one person in particular that he would love to have more scenes with.

"I'd very much like to do more with Jeff Hordley, who plays Cain," he reveals. "He's a really great guy who has given me a lot of helpful advice from day one, and I think he's an incredible actor. It would be wonderful to work with – and learn more from – him."

Ryan likes to take matters into his own hands

FAN favourite!

James is thrilled with the audience reaction...

It's been three years since we first met Ryan, after he got in contact with birth mum Charity following his adoption. And star James is delighted to tell us that the Dales viewers have really taken his character into their hearts...

"I think the reaction from the Emmerdale audience has been overwhelmingly positive, especially as time has gone on and I've integrated more into the cast," shares the actor. "I don't get recognised as often now because I wear a mask a lot when I'm out and about, but when I do, people are really lovely."

Rock solid: Harvey has developed a bond with his fellow Albert Square newcomer

Putting FAMILY FIRST!

NEWCOMER ROSS BOATMAN TALKS TO US ABOUT HARVEY'S OFFICIAL MOVE TO WALFORD...

66

Now that I have my own place on Albert Square, it's as if I've officially arrived!" exclaims EastEnders actor Ross Boatman, whose alter ego Harvey makes himself at home in Walford this week, in order to be closer to his daughter Dana. "The day I turned up on the Square and walked through the door to my house was great; to know that you have a place there, it feels solid. I can't tell you how exciting it is – I feel fantastic!"

Dana's dad Harvey recently turned up on the Square to check out his daughter's new boyfriend Bobby at his 18th birthday party. Yet it's clear that Dana has been hiding the truth from her dad about Bobby's past...

"Harvey's really excited about finding somewhere to live on the Square and being closer to Dana," says Ross. "It's a new beginning for them both in a way, especially as Harvey gets a job in the cab office. However, what Harvey doesn't realise is that Dana has painted a false picture of Bobby – this perfect guy who does charity work, and is a shining example to the young generation.

Harvey believes Bobby is a keeper, but sadly, he doesn't have any idea that Dana has been spinning him a line."

In the end, what ought to be a smooth moving-in day for Harvey soon takes a very different turn as he uncovers Bobby's secret...

"It's Rocky who reveals that Bobby is a killer," explains Ross. "Rocky mentions it and assumes Harvey knew, but obviously that's not the case. Like any dad, to find out your daughter's been lying about their boyfriend killing their sister, it's pretty horrifying!"

Dana's doting dad:
Harvey just wants the best for his daughter

Kill the mood: The bombshell about Bobby's murderous past has Harvey worried for Dana

Harvey thinks Dana can do better than dating a killer...

"You'll see from Harvey's response that he's unhappy about it to say the least," he adds. "I don't think Harvey has anything against Bobby personally, but he's just having a natural reaction that any parent would have. Harvey thinks Dana can do better than going out with a convicted killer!"

However, it's not all bad news for Harvey as he makes a friend in fellow Square newcomer Rocky – but Ross tells us that perhaps his alter ego shouldn't be so trusting...

"Harvey and Rocky do seem to hit it off quickly!" laughs the actor. "Harvey takes it at face value and thinks Rocky is a really nice guy, almost a kindred spirit on the Square – someone from the same generation and history – but in reality, they don't know each other that well. I'm not sure what the future holds for them both, although I really hope we get some more scenes together. It's great fun working with Brian [Conley], who plays him."

Meanwhile, Ross doesn't have to look far in order to get inside the head of Harvey. Being a father himself, he explains that he knows exactly how his alter ego is feeling about Dana's relationship with a killer.

"I have a daughter who's a similar age to Dana, she's an independent woman doing her own thing and we talk about everything together – but you never stop worrying about your children," sighs Ross. "Even if you know they've grown up, it's very hard to stand back and let them go without chucking your two pence in and telling them how you feel. So, of course Harvey has to accept Dana's relationship on a certain level, but I don't think his interfering in Dana's life will end there..."

Alice Penwill

Bright YOUNG THINGS!

Ross tells us that since joining the show, he can't help but be in awe of his younger co-stars...

"Barbara [Smith, who plays Dana] is so lovely – she's a fantastic actor!" gushes the actor. "I'm always amazed when I meet actors as young as Barbara who are so accomplished and confident, she's great. I'm really looking forward to working with her over the coming months. We've got some really lovely stuff to play together, and I'm confident we're going to make a great team. I've been working a fair bit with Clay [Milner Russell, aka Bobby] too. What a smashing kid and so talented – so natural in his delivery. He's bright and engaging, always chilled and in a good mood. Clay has such a great energy, it's a pleasure to be around and to work with him."

Mother's RUIN!

AS MANDY'S DAUGHTER ELLA RETURNS, HOLLYOAKS STAR SARAH JAYNE DUNN TELLS US THAT HER CHARACTER'S NIGHTMARE ISN'T OVER YET...

Mandy is delighted to welcome her daughter Ella home this week, after months incarcerated in a young offenders' centre for Jordan Price's murder. However, Mandy's joy soon turns to horror when her teenage daughter runs away! Is there any let-up to Mandy's misery? Sarah Jayne Dunn, who plays her, reveals that she isn't sure there is...

"Now that Ella's back in the village, Mandy feels they can start afresh and put the past behind them," she explains. "However, of course, that's not how it works out! Mandy wants them to move on with their lives, and finally have some happiness, so when Ella runs away, Mandy is utterly devastated."

Prior to Ella fleeing the village, Mandy has been forced to lie to her daughter after Nancy bans Charlie from seeing Ella! Not wanting to upset her girl, Mandy arranges for the young friends to meet up in secret – but her actions have devastating consequences...

"Mandy is furious that Nancy has banned Charlie from seeing Ella," declares Sarah. "She feels that Charlie is the only person who really understands what Ella is going through, so they could support and help each other. By taking that away from Ella, Nancy is putting her in a very vulnerable and isolated position."

"So Mandy arranges for them to meet up – she wants Ella to have some sort of normality," she continues. "And she thinks it will help Ella move past what's happened, so she completely goes against Nancy's wishes."

It's after Ella finds out the truth that a huge row erupts between mother and daughter, and Mandy later discovers a note saying that the teen has run away!

"Mandy feels responsible, as she says some awful things," admits Sarah. "She's just got her girl back, and then suddenly she's disappeared – she doesn't know where she is or if she's safe. Mandy's trying to hold everything together, but all the stress and emotions she's going through lead to her having a panic attack. It's all just a bit overwhelming for her."

To make matters worse, poor Mandy has no one to turn to really, having pushed away most of her friends and family. It's a terrible situation for her to be in – but thankfully, Sarah tells us that she has no problem switching off from Mandy's woes at the end of the day.

"I think as I've done this for so long now, I do find it easy to be able to draw that line between reality and work," she shares. "My drive home takes about 45 minutes, so I pop on a podcast and that allows me to wind down. Then I'll do some exercise, journaling or meditation, which always helps me to switch off."

Road to RECOVERY!

Home and Away star Lynne McGranger fills us in on the explosion aftermath...

HOME AND AWAY | Channel 5 MONDAY

The residents of Summer Bay were lucky to escape with their lives following the recent food truck explosion, but the horrifying ordeal still isn't over for Jasmine (see p31). Lynne McGranger, who plays Jas' close friend Irene, fills us in on the injured nurse's recovery...

How concerned is Irene about poorly Jasmine?

Irene loves Jasmine like a daughter – she'll always be there to support her. Dr Christian is dismayed as well, and can't work out what's wrong with Jas. Of course, Irene is very concerned for her because Jasmine previously had depression when Robbo died, so she's delicate at the moment...

And are you enjoying working with Sam Frost, who plays Jasmine?

Sam and I always have great fun filming these scenes, we get on like a house on fire. She is an absolutely gorgeous girl, very talented and funny. Hopefully she says the same thing about me!

There's also still the mystery of who killed Susie – does Irene have any idea who did it?

She's a bit suspicious of Justin, and quite frankly, who would blame him for losing it at Susie? I mean, she ran off with all of his and Leah's savings – Susie was a serious piece of work. But we'll just have to wait and see when the killer is revealed...

What would you like to see next for Irene?

I would love to see Irene get married one day, but then of course something bad would have to happen – she would be abducted, or the groom would be killed off!

BOBBY BEALE

2003 – PRESENT

He's the devil child who made the Square's blood run cold with his terrible actions. Bobby has struggled to turn his life around, a life which has been completely defined by an awful mistake on one terrible, fateful night...

THE BIG STORIES

DADDY ISSUES!

Bobby's life has been filled with drama from conception. His mum Laura assumed a fling with Garry Hobbs had left her pregnant, as hubby Ian had undergone a vasectomy. But it turned out Ian's swimmers were strong, and he was in fact the dada!

THE KEY RELATIONSHIPS

IAN

Dad Ian has made a hash of raising all his kids, and Bobby is no exception. The pair have a rocky relationship, with Bobby spending long periods with mum Jane away from Walford.

LUCY

We can't hide from the elephant in the room. Bobby's stormy relationship with his big sister ended in a truly terrible tragedy, and changed the youngster's life forever. We expect it will haunt him for many years...

KATHY

With Ian currently away – and despite the fact that she spent most of Bobby's childhood in hiding – Kathy has taken on the role of the lad's primary parent, trying to guide him through his life settling back into Walford.

PANDORA'S BOX!

Bobby flew into a rage one fateful night, and struck his sister Lucy on the head with her jewellery box. Stepmum Jane moved the body and covered up her boy's crime, even convincing Bobby that his actions had nothing to do with her death. Jane confessed months later, and she and the family vowed to keep what happened a secret. However, the truth did out...

FINDING FAITH!

Bobby's deeds caught up with him, and he was sentenced to four years in a detention centre. As a way to come to terms with his past, Bobby started studying Islam. Ian was shocked by this, and Bobby even found himself attacked by local youths for his faith. It also became clear he was suffering from OCD, as he struggled with visions of Lucy.

THE CLASSIC SCENE

Dana arrives to talk to Bobby, hurt by his lies about being a successful businessman. However, when she leaves while his back is turned, he decides to run after her...

BOBBY "I'm not the kind of person who lies, you know. I just thought no one would want me... as I am."

BOBBY "Just hear me out. Until I met you, I could barely even talk to girls. I liked this girl once, and I thought she liked me back.

But actually she liked my brother. So that's why I had to be confident and cool, because I thought there was no way that an awkward nerd like me had any chance with someone like you.

[Dana's face softens as she looks at him]

BOBBY "But then, the best times that we had together – where I laughed the most or where I spent hours talking about stupid stuff – in those moments, I was just Bobby. And you need to get to know me. I want you to see that everything I said I feel about you, it's all true."

DANA "I wasn't leaving... my dad phoned"

[Shocked Bobby takes this in]

DANA "And what you just said was really cheesy... and you're right, you are an awkward nerd. But I'm into it.

Best get the drinks in, then..."

SAM RETFORD

Corrie's Curtis Delamere ...faces your questions!

While mystery surrounds Curtis' life on the cobbles, actor Sam proves much more open as he happily tackles your questions...

“Where were you when you were offered the role of Curtis?”

I was driving down the motorway with the boot open, full of school lockers! I'd been out on a job to pick them up for a film studio, when I got the call from my agent about Coronation Street. I could barely hear what they were saying, because these lockers were banging about in the back! But it was so exciting – I had a good sing-song to celebrate!

“What's your favourite thing about working with Alexandra Mardell [aka Emma]?”

Ali is extremely professional, but also knows when to have a laugh. If you spend a lot of time together, on very long days, you need that. When you're working with someone, it makes all the difference if you get along well, doesn't it?

“What do you make of Curtis and Emma as a couple?”

Well, I gather that Emma hasn't had the best of luck with men before Curtis. I imagine that it's nice for her to be with someone who has a big caring side – and the pair of them get on so well, too. All I can say is that hopefully it will carry on!

“Who on the set makes you laugh the most?”

Oh, my goodness, it has to be Simon [Gregson, aka Steve]. I really struggle in our scenes together, because he's absolutely hysterical. So it's either him or Jimmi [Harkishin, who plays Dev]: whenever I spot Jimmi's name on the call sheet, I have to prepare myself so that I can try to get through the day without falling apart laughing.

“Aside from Curtis, who has been your favourite television character to play?”

It has to be Cory from Ackley Bridge – he was a brilliant character. I was on the show for a few years, and when you play a part for so long, you almost fall in love with your character after spending so much time in their shoes. Honestly, it was sad to say goodbye to Cory. I look back fondly on those years of my life – and I still regularly catch up with the guys from the show. When I joined Corrie, I was pleased to find familiar faces on the crew who had worked on Ackley Bridge, too.

“You also worked on the Hollyoaks spin-off called Tom’s Life, as Nate – what was that like?”

That was my first-ever professional TV job. I think I was only about 14 at the time, so I learned an awful lot. I'm still friends with Ellis [Hollins, who plays Tom Cunningham] and a lot of the Hollyoaks team. I can remember, when I was there, Ashley Taylor Dawson [aka Darren Osborne] took me under his wing and gave me some advice. There was one moment, though, when I threw a basketball, and it smashed a very expensive light. Everyone was staring at me, then the props guy came over and handed me a foam ball instead. I didn't think I'd work in the industry again!

“If you hadn’t gone into acting, what do you think you’d be doing?”

Well, I do quite a lot outside of acting, and I try not to do one thing for too long before moving on. If I'm not at work, I'll be in the woods somewhere, frolicking around doing bushcraft or going diving – I love being outdoors. I worked as a professional diver for a while after training in the Mediterranean, so maybe I'd be doing that, or I'd quite like to get into marine biology.

“Where’s the best place that you’ve travelled to in the UK?”

I adore Scotland because of the remoteness of it. The Isle of Skye is very beautiful. I love Wales

“If you were to bring in a new family member for Curtis, who would you cast to play them?”

If I could be totally selfish, then I would bring in an uncle for Curtis and cast Andrew Scott – from Sherlock and Fleabag – in that role, just because I'm a bit in love with him. ONE OF THE UK'S BIGGEST POLICE OPERATIONS IS EXAMINED IN A BRAND-NEW DRAMA...

This powerful new four-part drama puts a spotlight on the undercover investigation into the brutal murder of Rachel Nickell, who was killed on Wimbledon Common in 1992, in front of her toddler son.

More than 16 years before convicted murderer Robert Napper was finally found guilty of the heinous crime, early evidence mistakenly marked local dog-walker Colin Stagg as prime suspect. In a flawed and precarious bid to solve the high-profile case, a female police officer was enlisted to develop a controversial

'honeytrap' relationship with Stagg – which resulted in devastating consequences for all concerned...

"A year-and-a-half of work is covered over the four episodes," explains Niamh Algar, who plays the covert officer – codenamed 'Lizzie James' – employed for the dangerous task of luring Rachel's suspected killer. "It was a time when women weren't moving up the police ranks, so being chosen to be at the centre of a massive case was a major thing."

"I met with female officers who were working on other cases back then, to find out how they were treated and how it affected them: what it was they were willing to do in order to carry out certain ops, when psychological support wasn't seen as a necessity in the way that it is now."

Starring alongside Niamh is Keeping Faith's Sion Daniel Young as Colin Stagg, and The Pact's Eddie Marsan as psychologist Paul Britton, who was tasked by police to create an offender profile of the killer, and helped devise the undercover operation. Also in the stellar cast is The Crown's Luke Treadaway as

Call to mind: Psychologist Paul Britton was tasked with creating the killer's profile

Keith Pedder, the detective inspector in charge...

"It's exciting playing real people, because there are foundations to their lives which you can actually find out about, which is amazing," reckons Luke. "When it's a story like this one, it does add an extra edge of responsibility. But that helps to drive and energise the production across the board. We all want to serve a good story."

JOANNA PAGE AND MELANIE SYKES TEAM UP TO HELP US SAVE OUR PENNIES...

As the series helping families change the way they spend returns, new hosts Joanna Page and Melanie Sykes step in with a raft of budget-busting advice – as Gavin & Stacey star Joanna reveals...

Hi, Joanna! How would you describe this series to anyone who hasn't tuned in before?

It's basically myself and Melanie delving into the lives of different families to see what they're spending their money on – and how we can help them to save money with easy tips and tricks.

Did you have fun filming it?

I loved it! I'm a naturally curious person, and it was so interesting meeting everyone – finding out how we could help them, and helping ourselves save at the same time! Melanie was great to work with, too – we were laughing most days.

Do you reckon it's a particularly relevant programme on the back of the pandemic?

Oh, yes – since Covid, we've found that people are wanting to save more because of changes at work. And there's also wanting to save for redecorating, because we've been spending more time at home.

So how do you think lockdown has affected people's shopping habits?

On the one hand, it's made a lot of us shop online – plus, we had more spare time, which added lots of looking at products we didn't really need! But on the other hand, I found that I simplified quite a lot in my life, and didn't need half as much stuff as I thought. I enjoyed stopping spending.

What would you say are your most valuable bits of advice to help reduce our shopping bills?

Always shop around: the most expensive isn't necessarily the best! Get outside and enjoy family activities – feed the ducks, play football in the park or have a picnic – instead of spending on material things.

Have you been educating your own friends and family with the tips that you've picked up?

APPARITION IMPOSSIBLE

MARTHA HOWE-DOUGLAS, CHARLOTTE RITCHIE AND KIELL BYNOE-SMITH ARE BACK WITH THE SUPERLATIVE SUPERNATURAL SITCOM...

As Ghosts returns for a welcome third series this week, Alison and Mike's inherited country estate is looking a little more spruced up, while its occult occupiers remain resigned to squabbling for all eternity. Stars Martha Howe-Douglas (who plays Lady Button), Charlotte Ritchie (Alison) and Kiell Bynoe-Smith (Mike) tell us what we can expect...

Raising spirits: Alison is in for a shock this series when a mysterious visitor arrives at the house

"An interesting thing about this series is it's going back to traditional spooky stuff," notes Charlotte. "There's references to certain horror movies, and it's more suspense-filled, which is really cool."

In the opener, a film crew has set up at the house to record a historical documentary. But while Alison's relationship with the spooks continues to blossom, previously phasmophobic Mike is showing signs of green-eye...

"We see a bit of jealousy from Mike, that Alison and the ghosts are now friends, yet he's not able to hang out with them," shares Kiell.

"It's a really difficult balance to strike, isn't it, about how Mike feels about the ghosts?" muses Charlotte. "Because they do take his wife away from him all the time and mess up his life quite a lot!"

"Mike has learned to live with them, and doesn't find them as much of a hindrance as he did before," adds Kiell. "In the first series, he was really scared!"

As Alison and Mike continue to try to make their guest house dream a reality, the real-life Button House – Grade-I listed West

Horsley Place in Surrey – really is undergoing renovations...

"Well, they do it up, then we strip it back again!" chuckles Martha. "But it's been great to have heating and nice toilets. Those first two series going out to the caravan loos with my big Lady Button dress on was disgusting! But the house itself is so beautiful."

"There's even an opera house at the back," remarks Charlotte. "And there's some bits of floor you're not allowed to stand on – for real..."

"Plus, there's always a dead rat somewhere in the floorboards," recalls Martha. "You never forget that smell: it's absolutely vile!"

SU CHEF!

AS THE STAR-SPANGLED COOKING COMP RETURNS, COMEDY STAR SU POLLARD HAS 'HI-DE-HI' HOPES...

CELEBRITY MASTERCHEF | BBC1 MON, TUES & FRI

“Oh, the terror of it all!” wails Su Pollard, as the much-loved actress and singer relives stepping into that infamous Celebrity MasterChef kitchen for the first time. “I didn’t even know what a spatula was beforehand! But you just have to get cracking – and, do you know what, it was marvellous to bite the bullet...”

Su is joined in this week’s opening heat by ex-EastEnder Rita Simons, comedian Munya Chawawa, Blue and Hollyoaks’ Duncan James, and Happy Mondays’ Bez, all cooking up a storm to scoop a coveted space in the next round. But what Su lacks in culinary experience, she more than

New pan, M’Lord?: Su gets in a pickle in the iconic kitchen makes up for with her infamous charm and enthusiasm.

“I mean, it’s no exaggeration, darling – I don’t cook,” insists the star of classic comedies including Hi-de-Hi! and You Rang, M’Lord?. “I put things in the oven, and that’s a different thing altogether. But I’ve got to try to make cooking for myself a bit less intimidating. [Hosts] John and Greg did give me some very good advice!”

As the new series continues, the MasterChef mentors will welcome celebs including Katie Price, soaps Joe Swash and Michelle Collins,

The Repair Shop’s Will Kirk, Penny Lancaster – aka Mrs Rod Stewart – and Strictly’s Johannes, as they too pop on their pinnies in the hope of lifting that famous trophy. And talking of aprons...

“I don’t think those flippin’ MasterChef aprons are very attractive – do you?” poses Su – renowned for her love of a flamboyant outfit. “But that’s the look, isn’t it? It’s like a uniform, and it’s de rigueur. And it’s absolutely quite right: if I’d been in a flowing sleeve, I could have set fire to meself!”

THE BOLEYNs: A SCANDALOUS FAMILY | BBC2 FRIDAY

ROCKIN’ AND BOLEYN!

FORGET YOUR KARDASHIANS: THE BOLEYN FAMILY WAS ALL DRAMZ 500 YEARS BEFORE, AS THIS NEW SERIES REVEALS...

This new three-part docu-series uses reconstructions to bring us an insight into the life of the Boleyn family: one of intrigue, sex, rivalry, betrayal and tragedy. Nandini Das, a historian at the University of Oxford, tells Inside TV how the Tudor clan’s power games led to an incredible show of social climbing...

“Thomas Boleyn wanted more than just being the father of one of the King’s fleeting passions,” explains Nandini. “He knew how the strings of loyalty and family connections would allow him to rise through the Tudor court.”

In the opener, Thomas seizes every opportunity to promote his clan’s name, and we’re introduced to the Boleyn children – Mary, George and Anne...

“They were good-looking: a real bonus at the court of a monarch once celebrated as the best-looking prince in Christendom!” shares Nandini. “George and Anne were intelligent, so Thomas had high hopes for them.”

After spending her youth in France, Anne returns to Britain brimming with ideas. But it’s Mary who catches the eye of the King first...

“Anne’s story may be one of the most familiar in our history,” observes Nandini. “But without understanding the Boleyns, it’s impossible to realise how the course of England’s destiny changed in Henry VIII’s reign...”

Many of us have considered a drastic change-up in our lives over the past year – and here, Sophie Morgan meets some of those already going for it in this new two-parter. The disability campaigner has recently endured tough times of her own – losing her job, splitting from her partner, and shielding indoors for most of the year – so is keen to be inspired by those now living their best lives.

As Sophie travels across Britain aboard her modified three-wheeled motorbike – meeting the likes of shepherd Elizabeth, who lives outdoors with her flock of sheep, and Amy and Dave, who ditched their high-powered jobs to spend more time paragliding – we're all given pause for indulgent thought...

THE QUEENS OF POP: VIVA LA DIVA | BBC2 9.30PM

Regional variations

A verified music marvel herself, Scissor Sister and BBC Radio 2 presenter Ana Mantronic is qualified to lead this insightful (and rocking) documentary exploring five of music's female mega artists: Beyoncé, Cher, Grace Jones, Madonna and Mariah Carey. All have (rightly) achieved international stardom, but while male counterparts who've garnered similar levels of success might be referred to as 'rock god' or 'genius', female stars are often labelled 'diva' – a term not always considered positive. By delving deep into the lives of these legends, Ana sets out to better understand their mammoth acclaim.

Strike a pose

The third and final run of this highly critically-acclaimed drama of New York's drag ball culture scene of the 1990s (with a suitably top-notch soundtrack to match) hits the dance floor with a double-header tonight.

After an ambitious Lemar strikes out to launch The House of Khan, his former house mother Blanca is left with her work cut out as she rises to new challenges. Her adored Pray Tell has sadly succumbed to a drinking problem, and Angel's modelling career is hitting the skids – while many of her other children have moved on or fallen foul of dangerous habits. But might Blanca's new romance provide the strength she needs to help her beloved flock?

GUY MARTIN: THE WORLD'S FASTEST ELECTRIC CAR? | Channel 4 9PM

DON'T Miss!

Fully charged

Guy Martin ought to have his own dedicated version of the Guinness World Record books, such is his enthusiasm for smashing speed-related records on a regular basis. This doc follows the former motorcycle racer (and heavy vehicle mechanic) on his latest attempt – this time, for the fastest road-legal battery vehicle on a quarter-mile drag strip. His vehicle of choice is the classic Volkswagen Beetle, fitted with state-of-the-art Tesla technology, which enables the 50-year-old motor to accelerate faster than the most souped-up of supercars.

All that, and there's still enough time to spare for Guy's investigation into how Britain is embracing the electric motoring innovation...

JAMES MARTIN'S ISLANDS TO HIGHLANDS | ITV 8PM

Regional variations

Meanwhile, James Martin is behind the wheel of his own classic car – that shiny red Mini – to continue his culinary travels across the UK. But he probs won't want to go as fast as the other Mr Martin, since he's heading for the beautiful Peak District, sampling the stunning views as well as a selection of local dishes. Top chef Tessa Bramley serves James up a sumptuous beef fillet trimmed with veg from her own garden, before he heads off to meet a local forager to sample his elderflower wine. And, as luck would have it, there are enough blooms left over for James to whip up pudding...

BIG ZUU'S BIG EATS | Dave 10PM

In the last of the series tonight, Big Zuu meets comic actor Natasia Demetriou at an allotment in west London, where the star of What We Do In The Shadows and Stath Lets Flats divulges her favourite dishes, including pasta. After a little local research, Zuu comes up with a unique twist on the Italian classic, cacio e pepe: serving it in an edible bowl made of baked cheese...

BELLOW DECK MEDITERRANEAN | E4 8PM

It's the crew's first night out of the season tonight, and the second charter kicks off when guests who have ties to the music industry get on board. Also, there's a confrontation in store for Malia and Pete, as a result of the latter's attitude...

9-1-1 | Sky Witness 9PM

The 118 races to save lives after a drink-driver causes a pile-up on the motorway. Also, Maddie goes into labour, while Hen and Karen are left devastated as they prepare for their foster daughter to be reunited with her birth mother.

THE SECRET LIFE OF THE ZOO | Channel 4 8PM

Elephant plan

Tonight sees the return of the documentary series capturing the myriad animals at Chester Zoo. Malayan tapirs Margery and her partner Betong tuck away 40kg of food a day (we're not far shy of that working from home, tbh) – but their keepers have noticed Margery's figure is more rotund than usual... Could she be eating for two?

Then there's hyacinth macaw James Bond, who lost his mate for life, Miss Moneypenny, after she caught a virus – and now he's in quarantine. And Thi – great-grandma and matriarch of the Asian elephants – seems to be losing interest in life, what with the pain of arthritis and the demands of the herd's rambunctious youngest, Anjaan. Can the Chester crew help her get her mojo back?

Blading squad

JONNIE'S BLADE CAMP | Channel 4 10PM

Regional variations

In the run-up to the Paralympic Games in Tokyo, this amazing new two-parter sees Team GB Paralympic 100m sprinter Jonnie Peacock on a mission to help five young amputees realise their sporting potential. Over the course of a year-long training camp, Jonnie uses the latest tech, inspirational guest coaches and his own experience to help these brave youngsters to achieve things that they never thought possible. In the opener, Jonnie meets the kids and asks them to set ambitious goals, before coaching them to sprint 100m on their prosthetic blades for the very first time. I'm not crying, you're crying, etc.

DAISY MASKELL: INSOMNIA AND ME | BBC3

Daisy Maskell, the UK's youngest breakfast radio host, has lived with insomnia since childhood, surviving on as little as a couple of hours of sleep a night. And with the 23-year-old Kiss FM DJ's ever-increasing workload, that's starting to take its toll. Here, Daisy meets experts as well as fellow sufferers to investigate why thousands of young people are struggling with sleep disorders...

UNTOLD: MALICE AT THE PALACE | Netflix

This new five-part docuseries brings stories from the world of sport, but delves deep into what happened beyond the headlines. First up, there's the tale of an enormous brawl between the NBA's Indiana Pacers and Detroit Pistons.

THE EQUALIZER | Sky Witness 9PM

McCall's online ad leads her to a mother whose son has been kidnapped and will be killed unless she steals top-secret info from her FBI employer. Also, McCall enlists Aunt Vi to help uncover a secret Delilah is keeping from them both...

OUR LIVES: LIFE ON THE HIGH WIRE | BBC1 7PM

High hopes

This fascinating documentary follows Britain's top high-wire walker Chris Bullzini, who scales dizzying heights in his terrifying day job without so much as a safety line or net, risking his life with every one of his astounding skyline walks.

In excelling at his treacherous art, Chris has sacrificed time, money and relationships while looking death right in the face. But despite these setbacks in his personal life, he's doggedly determined to keep on pushing himself to the limit, as he does yet again in this mesmerising film: an unbelievable 230m tightrope walk 20m above Norwich city centre. His entire future is at stake in undertaking this staggering ropewalk – but Chris valiantly refuses to fail...

KURUPTING THE INDUSTRY: THE PEOPLE JUST... | BBC3

This new one-off special celebrates People Just Do Nothing – the cult comedy about aspiring DJs on pirate radio. The team behind the show reflect on the rise from web series to BAFTA-winning show, and now feature film (out next week). Allan Mustafa, aka MC Grindah, tells us what we can expect...

"It shows how far we've come and how lucky we are," he shares. "It was a cathartic experience, because we've not really stopped this whole time! It was like therapy sitting there and talking about it."

Also in the documentary, star fans including Craig David, Dizzee Rascal and Clara Amfo share their fave moments from the series...

"We brought Craig David back, plain and simple!" jokes Allan. "No, it's surreal. We started the show because we wanted to reflect on our youth in the garage, grime and jungle days. Craig and Dizzee shaped our music taste, fashion and style when we were 16. And I used to do pirate radio with Clara's older brother, so they're all part of this full circle. It's crazy!"

BAKE SQUAD | Netflix

This new show sees founder of award-winning American bakery Milk Bar, Christina Tosi, on a mission to make people's dessert dreams come true. Four bakers battle it out to see whose pud will be picked for a punter's special day...

THE WATCH | BBC2 9PM

A must-Watch

Inspired by the Ankh-Morpork police force in Terry Pratchett's Discworld series, this punk-rock comedy thriller packs a punch, as a band of misfit cops – living in a world where crime is legal – join forces to save their city from devastation.

The series (also available in its entirety via iPlayer) kicks off tonight with a double-header, promising crazy adventures as trolls, werewolves, wizards and other unlikely heroes pit themselves against an evil plot to resurrect a destructive dragon. Brace yourself for wry humour and striking special effects – and if you're a Game Of Thrones fan, it may interest you to know that Richard Dormer (aka Beric Dondarrion) stars as grouchy detective Captain Sam Vimes...

Fern Britton has many happy memories of Cornwall, having spent childhood holidays in the coastal area back in the 50s, before her time as a local newsreader there in the 80s. Now, she's lucky enough to call the UK's creamiest county her home – an enchanting place that's proved the perfect inspiration for her novels. And just in case we aren't already au fait with just why Cornwall is such a wonderful place to be, tonight Fern is on the second instalment of her two-part investigative trawl of the region, digging deep into its history, heritage, myths and legends, to unearth its magical secrets.

EXPLORING NORTHERN IRELAND WITH... | More4 9PM

Star of C4's brilliant Derry Girls, Siobhán McSweeney (Sister Michael) takes to her electric bike in this new four-parter, to explore the lakes, mountains, coastline and forests Northern Ireland

IAN HISLOP: TRAINS THAT CHANGED THE WORLD | Channel 5 9PM

Choo the fat

In this brand-new series, narrated by Ian Hislop, we learn how four iconic British-built trains revolutionised rail travel, and inspired railway projects across the world. Starting with the Industrial Revolution, a time when there was an increasing need to transport goods around the country in less time than it took traditional horsepower, historians and experts explain how ferocious competition between businessmen and rail companies led to major breakthroughs in engineering and impressive new designs. Also explored is the PR battle that train companies of the day had to fight so as to fend off competition from new-fangled modes of transport: the motor car and the aeroplane...

Have I got canoes for you

MOTORHOMING WITH MERTON & WEBSTER | Channel 5 8PM

Regional variations

Ian's HIGNFY co-star Paul Merton opts for a motorhome, as he and wife Suki Webster continue to wend their way around the UK. Tonight, the couple are in the Lake District, where they visit the Kendal mint cake factory (leading Suki to have quite an entertaining sugar rush). After crossing Lake Windermere by ferry, they head to a campsite on Coniston Water, and give wild swimming a try – leaving Paul in hysterics as the cold proves too much for Suki. Later, it's a less chilly spot of canoeing over Derwent Water to St Herbert's island: the inspo for Beatrix Potter's The Tale Of Squirrel Nutkin.

MODERN LOVE | Amazon Prime Video

It's a welcome return for this much-loved anthology series – based on an original New York Times column of the same name – celebrating love in all its forms with an all-star cast. Across the eight standalone stories, we'll spy the likes of Game Of Thrones' Kit Harrington, The Crown's Tobias Menzies, The Affair's Anna Paquin and Ratched's Sophie Okonedo, in tales inspired by true events.

DECEPTION | Alibi 9PM

As this crime drama series – in which a disgraced magician helps the FBI crack crimes – continues, said illusionist Cam and agent Kay investigate the murder of a psychic, whose partner, it transpires, is already on the run...

THE KINGDOM | Netflix

This dark political crime drama tells the tale of a controversial televangelist, who finds himself Argentina's presidential candidate after his running mate is murdered. But as he embraces this opportunity, is he as holy as he seems?

The HOT list

GREAT THINGS TO WATCH, READ AND DO IN THE WEEK AHEAD...

CINEMA

JUNGLE CRUISE

Dr Lily Houghton enlists the aid of wisecracking skipper Frank Wolff to take her down the Amazon in his ramshackle boat. Together, they search for an ancient tree that holds the power to heal – a discovery that will change the future of medicine. Starring Emily Blunt, Jack Whitehall, Edgar Ramirez and Dwayne Johnson, Jungle Cruise is out in UK cinemas and available to stream via Disney+ Premier Access now.

DVD

PROMISING YOUNG WOMAN

Nothing in Cassie's life is what it appears to be – she's wickedly smart, tantalisingly cunning, and she's living a secret double life by night. Now, an unexpected encounter is about to give Cassie a chance to right the wrongs from the past. Starring Carey Mulligan.

BOOK

NOT A HAPPY FAMILY

by Shari Lapena

An older couple are murdered hours after a tense dinner with their three adult children, who are utterly devastated – or are they? They each stand to inherit millions, and they were never a happy family, thanks to their vindictive dad and neglectful mum...

STAR CHOICE

Coronation Street's Harriet Bibby (Summer)

"I've just watched BBC drama Time, which everyone seems to have been raving about lately. It stars Stephen Graham, and it's fantastic. It's quite a serious drama about prison life – there's a prison guard and a prisoner, and you learn about how they fare and what they do. It's very well acted out, and I enjoyed it – even though it's quite sad."

BLU-RAY

PETER RABBIT 2: THE RUNAWAY

Bea, Thomas and the rabbits have created a makeshift family, but despite his best efforts, Peter can't shake his mischievous reputation – and he soon finds himself in a world where his mischief is welcomed... Out now on digital, Blu-Ray and DVD.

BOOK

THE MIX UP

by Holly McCulloch

Baker Paige finds herself needing a little no-strings-attached fun. She goes to a party where her friend knows just the guy – the guy in the black top. There's only one issue... There are two men wearing black tops! But will the wrong one turn out to be the right choice?

HITS & MISSES!

Steven
who?
That's
showbiz!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

We suspect Hope's supposedly happy drawing of her family in the sun actually shows them all about to be obliterated by a fiery meteorite.

We do understand why Liam is going to insist on wearing the same grey marl tracksuit for the next six weeks. We only ask that it's given a boil wash every three to four episodes.

Nothing says "the honeymoon's over" more than when you stop being able to bear your husband's grief over his dead daughter.

Poor Leyla!

We love how Kat has taken full control of the Mitchell house – even calling meetings about the welfare of family members. It's a shame Peggy isn't around to see her carrying on the legacy.

For those still sad about Leanne, we were pleased to clock that she's already been reborn and living her new best life as a Love Island contestant.

BULLSEYE!

James and Michael's story has again prompted conversations surrounding unconscious bias and out-and-out racism, with the debate between Steve and Tim a classic example of how cleverly Corrie opens a discussion with its audience. Personally, we think PC Brody should spend less of his time pulling over sports cars, and more of it keeping nice guys like Seb from being murdered.

It's flashbacks of dead Tina, cold on Gray's sofa, that remind us just how much Mick will very much regret posing for this picture.

Home Farm looks like Gary Windass has stopped by to perform a house clearance. It's the absence of 430 apples on the kitchen table that you really notice!

Ah, the glamour of it all!

Emma captured Finding Yourself In The Wrong Plot At The Wrong Time just beautifully.

And we loved Paddy's face when Kim told him he was indirectly responsible for her drugging with horse diazepam. Could happen to anyone, mate!

We're amazed that Tyrone has managed to father any kind of anything in jeans that tight.

How is it that Chelsea got right on our nerves when she was duping her serial killer dad, yet she's an absolute legend when swizzing serial killer Gray? We're a fickle bunch!
